EIGHT years ago Thursday, it ended.

It is hard for the man of 30 to realize that the big war is not even a reality to the man of 22; hard for the man of 50 to realize that big war veterans think of the Spanish war as a distant memory, hard for the old man to realize the Civil war is ancient history, except to a little fringe near the grave's edge.

We soon forget wars, and so we start new ones.

THE French army, "much reduced for economy sake," will number this year 678,000 men and 157,300 horses.

Germany, not allowed to keep a huge, standing army, has her 678,000 men and 157,300 horses working for a living, building up Germany's new prosperity.

French taxpayers, clothing and feeding the huge standing army, wonder why prosperity returns so slowly.

THE French army is more than 000,000 greater than ours. At $5 a day, a fair average now, our 600,000 men are earning $900,000 a year. The government and taxpayers are saving nine hundred million other dollars, and more, than it would cost to feed, dress and arm such as standing army.

We are fortunate, so is Germany.

THE Swedish princess marries the Belgian prince, many women and children are injured in the crush.

Men have their revolutions, curtail the monarch's power, sometimes chop off his head.

But the infatuation for "royalty," voluntary self-abasement before it, remains in the blood.

You see it at the royal marriage in Brussels, and along the railroad track on Queen Marie's American tour.

IT IS a deep emotion, in human and animal nature. Insects have it. Ship by express a queen and some worker bees with food insufficient for the journey. Opening the package you find the queen fat, well cared for by the workers starving themselves to let the queen eat. It's part of nature's wisdom. Leaders were necessary and their care was important. The necessity has passed but the habit remains.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE does not approve the suggestion that our senate committee on foreign affairs meet at Ottawa the council of British premiers to discuss matters interesting both countries.

The President's right. This country should attend to its own business, here in the United States, and announce its decisions from here.

BUT it would be better to meet on North America soil, the premiers of

Reduces Housework 25 Per Cent

This is the end accomplished when a study is made of the average household, and it is rearranged from the standpoint of convenience and efficiency.

Did you ever stop to think how much time on her feet, how many miles of walking, would be saved the housewife if the kitchen cabinet were arranged for her with every article she needs in its place, and a comfortable stool drawn up in front?

We offer a booklet issued by the department of Agriculture which tells what kind of cabinet to buy—or how to make one cheaply.

It also gives directions for making a fireless cooker, a drainer that does away with drying dishes a serving tray, an iceless refrigerator, and a folding ironing board.

Add these conveniences to your home. Send for this booklet today. Enclose four cents in stamps for return postage and handling.

APPELLATE COURT WILL HAND DOWN DECISION IN FULTZ CASE ON DEC. 6

City's Appeal From Lower Tribunal Will be Acted Upon at Session in St. Clairsville.

ANDERSON PLEA ALSO HELD UP

East Liverpool's Petition in Error in Second Presbyterian Church Suit Dismissed.

Decision in the appeal of the city of Wellsville, against Chief of Police John H. Fultz, who was dismissed by Mayor W. L. Fogo and later reinstated by Common Pleas Judge W. H. Spence, will be handed down by the court of appeals at the Belmont county session in St. Clairsville during the week of December 6, it was announced today.

Ruling on the application for a third trial for George A. Anderson, East Liverpool, twice convicted of manslaughter in the death of Frank McLain, taxi driver, was deferred until Nov. 29.

Litigation Cases Argued.

The case was argued at Lisbon this week, but a ruling was reserved in order to give the court an opportunity to consider the evidence.

Nineteen cases were argued, decisions being handed down in 15, deferred in two and continued in two others.

Motion to dismiss the appeal of the city of East Liverpool in a judgement returned by the common pleas court in favor of C. A. Goodballet and others, representatives of the Second Presbyterian church, was sustained because the petition in error was not filed within the 70-day limit provided by law. The judgment was for damage alleged to have been done the church property when a run, crossing Virginia avenue, overflowed during a storm on June 28, 1924. The water flooded the basement of the church.

Other decisions by the court were:

Charity A. Burnett and others against the city of Wellsville; appeal dismissed.

James C. Azdell, plaintiff in error, against J. C. Swickard, judgment of the lower court affirmed.

Thomas Cadwallader and others against C. V. Rakestraw, judgment reversed.

SLAIN RECTOR'S DIARY IS ALSO ADMITTED IN MURDER TRIAL

Choir Singer's Scarf, Too, Entered as Evidence.

DEFENSE LOSES

Competent From Standpoint of Motive, Court Rules.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

COURT HOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 13.—The Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall's diary and several love letters in which he told of his great love for Mrs. Eleanor Mills, his choir singer, were admitted as evidence in the Hall-Mills murder trial today over vigorous objection of the defense counsel.

Defense Objects.

Mrs. Mills' scarf was also entered as evidence. The scarf, the diary and the letters were found in the Mills home several weeks after Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills were shot to death in De Russey's lane four years ago.

The defense objected to their introduction on the ground that they were not found at the scene of the crime.

The diary is a little brown note book. The letters were contained on many loose pages, all of which were entered as evidence.

Judge Charles W. Parker ruled that the jury should be given an opportunity to see the letters and the diary. He thought it was "competent" evidence. The letters showed "motive" and were competent on that point, he ruled.

Most of Spectators are Women.

Judge Charles W. Parker admitted the diary and letters as evidence.

"The view of the court is that they are competent from the standpoint of motive," said Judge Parker. "We believe too, that they are relevant and should be seen by the jury."

There were a few vacant seats in the courtroom this morning for the first time.

Most of the spectators were women.

Mrs. James B. Duke, widow of the late tobacco king, and her daughter wered riven over from their home in Raritan, a mile from Somerset, and found seats in the first row behind the press seats. It was Mrs. Duke's first appearance at the trial.

Mrs. Hall, attired in black, sat between Willie and Henry Stevens, watching the proceedings in a detached manner.

15 Love Letters Admitted.

The whole series of 15 love letters was admitted over the repeated objections of the defense. They were duly marked as exhibits.

When Attorney McCarter declared, "why we haven't even seen these letter," the court ordered that the letters be taken into an adjoining room by a court stenographer and examined by one of the defense lawyers. Prosecutor Simpson sent one of his representatives to watch this proceeding.

"Submarine Booze Ship" Captured in Lake Champlain

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Nov. 13.—A "submarine booze ship" loaded with 4,600 bottles of Canadian-ale has been captured by the Canadian Royal Mounted police for American authorities off Fort Montgomery, N. Y., in Lake Champlain.

Mrs. Mary Browning, Aged 65, Dies in Grant Street Home

COUNTY AUDITOR TELLS SCHOOL BOARD HERE TO KEEP WITHIN BUDGET

Law Interpreted, and Warning Given That Personal Liability Will Ensue if Expenditures Exceed Appropriations.

Members of the East Liverpool board of education were told that they must keep within their budget at a harmonious conference with County Auditor Elmer E. Walker at Lisbon last night.

The conference, arranged at the request of the school board, was called for a discussion of the 2.3 mill levy approved by the electors on Nov. 2, according to school officials. The meeting was attended by Members D. F. White, F. T. Weaver, C. A. Ferguson and R. B. Stevenson, Superintendent C. S. McVay and E. J. Gaston, clerk-treasurer of the board.

Auditor Walker suggested that the board keep in close touch with his office in order that expenditures might be kept within the budget. He warned members of the board that they would be held personally liable for any expenditures outside appropriations, and suggested a "pay-as-you-go" policy in the school's business. There is no means of liquidating any deficiency at the end of the fiscal year, Walker told the board.

The auditor was questioned concerning the distribution of delinquent taxes. The board was advised that all delinquent taxes are returned to the district from which they are collected.

While the tax rate for the school district has not been fixed indications are that it will be 10.93 mills for next year. The rate for the present year was 9.15 mills.

PRESIDENT BACK IN WHITE HOUSE AFTER TRIP TO KANSAS CITY

Officialdom Fixes Eyes on Europe to Observe Effect of Speech on World Court Reservations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—President Coolidge was back in the White House today well pleased with his Kansas City visit, during which he announced that Europe could accept America in the world court on its own terms or not at all.

Officialdom, meanwhile, has its eyes fixed on Europe to observe what effect, if any, the president's blunt speech will have toward spurring the major powers to definite action on the world court reservations.

A checkup today revealed that not a single major world power has acceded to the senate's reservations. Only five small nations, some hardly big enough to make a fair-sized county in Texas, have sent formal notes of acceptance.

All of these five acted before the Geneva conference in September when the nations participating therein signed an agreement to propose counter reservations. Four of these five attended that conference and three of the four signed the new agreement.

SLAIN RECTOR'S DIARY IS ALSO ADMITTED IN MURDER TRIAL

Choir Singer's Scarf, Too, Entered as Evidence.

DEFENSE LOSES

Competent From Standpoint of Motive, Court Rules.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

COURT HOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 13.—The Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall's diary and several love letters in which he told of his great love for Mrs. Eleanor Mills, his choir singer, were admitted as evidence in the Hall-Mills murder trial today over vigorous objection of the defense counsel.

Defense Objects.

Mrs. Mills' scarf was also entered as evidence. The scarf, the diary and the letters were found in the Mills home several weeks after Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills were shot to death in De Russey's lane four years ago.

The defense objected to their introduction on the ground that they were not found at the scene of the crime.

The diary is a little brown note book. The letters were contained on many loose pages, all of which were entered as evidence.

Judge Charles W. Parker ruled that the jury should be given an opportunity to see the letters and the diary. He thought it was "competent" evidence. The letters showed "motive" and were competent on that point, he ruled.

Most of Spectators are Women.

Judge Charles W. Parker admitted the diary and letters as evidence.

"The view of the court is that they are competent from the standpoint of motive," said Judge Parker. "We believe too, that they are relevant and should be seen by the jury."

There were a few vacant seats in the courtroom this morning for the first time.

Most of the spectators were women.

Mrs. James B. Duke, widow of the late tobacco king, and her daughter wered riven over from their home in Raritan, a mile from Somerset, and found seats in the first row behind the press seats. It was Mrs. Duke's first appearance at the trial.

Mrs. Hall, attired in black, sat between Willie and Henry Stevens, watching the proceedings in a detached manner.

15 Love Letters Admitted.

The whole series of 15 love letters was admitted over the repeated objections of the defense. They were duly marked as exhibits.

When Attorney McCarter declared, "why we haven't even seen these letter," the court ordered that the letters be taken into an adjoining room by a court stenographer and examined by one of the defense lawyers. Prosecutor Simpson sent one of his representatives to watch this proceeding.

"Submarine Booze Ship" Captured in Lake Champlain

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Nov. 13.—A "submarine booze ship" loaded with 4,000 bottles of Canadian ale has been captured by the Canadian Royal Mounted police for American authorities off Fort Montgomery, N. Y., in Lake Champlain.

COUNTY AUDITOR TELLS SCHOOL BOARD HERE TO KEEP WITHIN BUDGET

Law Interpreted, and Warning Given That Personal Liability Will Ensue if Expenditures Exceed Appropriations.

Members of the East Liverpool board of education were told that they must keep within their budget at a harmonious conference with County Auditor Elmer E. Walker at Lisbon last night.

The conference, arranged at the request of the school board, was called for a discussion of the 2.3 mill levy approved by the electors on Nov. 2, according to school officials. The meeting was attended by Members D. F. White, F. T. Weaver, C. A. Ferguson and R. B. Stevenson, Superintendent C. S. McVay and E. J. Gaston, clerk-treasurer of the board.

Auditor Walker suggested that the board keep in close touch with his office in order that expenditures might be kept within the budget. He warned members of the board that they would be held personally liable for any expenditures outside appropriations, and suggested a "pay-as-you-go" policy in the school's business. There is no means of liquidating any deficiency at the end of the fiscal year, Walker told the board.

The auditor was questioned concerning the distribution of delinquent taxes. The board was advised that all delinquent taxes are returned to the district from which they are collected.

While the tax rate for the school district has not been fixed indications are that it will be 10.93 mills for next year. The rate for the present year was 9.15 mills.

PRESIDENT BACK IN WHITE HOUSE AFTER TRIP TO KANSAS CITY

Officialdom Fixes Eyes on Europe to Observe Effect of Speech on World Court Reservations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—President Coolidge was back in the White House today well pleased with his Kansas City visit, during which he announced that Europe could accept America in the world court on its own terms or not at all.

Officialdom, meanwhile, has its eyes fixed on Europe to observe what effect, if any, the president's blunt speech will have toward spurring the major powers to definite action on the world court reservations.

A checkup today revealed that not a single major world power has acceded to the senate's reservations. Only five small nations, some hardly big enough to make a fair-sized county in Texas, have sent formal notes of acceptance.

All of these five acted before the Geneva conference in September when the nations participating therein signed an agreement to propose counter reservations. Four of these five attended that conference and three of the four signed the new agreement.

Juvenile Bible Study

One question for each day is provided. The parent will find it interesting and helpful to have the child take up the question each day and aid it in finding the answer in the Scriptures, thus developing a knowledge of the Bible and where to find in it the things decided. 479. What two thoughts are understood by the word judgment?

Answer: First, a trial given for some purpose; and, second, a sentence pronounced according to the outcome of the trial.

480. What was the first judgment day?

Answer: The time when Adam was on trial for life in the Garden of Eden, the whole unborn race being in him.

481. What was the outcome of that trial?

Answer: Disobedience to the command of God, and therefore unworthiness for everlasting life.

482. What was the sentence pronounced for the failure in this trial for everlasting life?

Answer: "Thou shalt surely (really) die."—Genesis 2:17.

483. Does the Bible say that all are counted as sinners on account of Adam's sin and for that reason are unworthy of everlasting life?

Answer: Yes, it says: "By one man (Adam) sin entered into the world and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned."—Romans 5:12.

484. As the result of that trial, has the sentence of death been carried out against the human race?

Answer: Yes. A great many people are dying every day, and every ache or pain is death working in the human race.

485. How did God arrange it so that each one of the human race might have a chance individually to prove whether he is worthy of everlasting life?

Answer: "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."—John 3:16.

Good Health Requires Good Elimination.

THE kidneys filter the blood. They are constantly ridding the body of poisons. One should realize, then, how much good health depends upon good elimination. When toxic poisons are permitted to accumulate, there's apt to follow a tired, achy feeling and, often, a dull backache, with toxic headaches and dizziness. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is sometimes shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Many people have learned to assist their kidneys by drinking plenty of pure water and the occasional use of a stimulant diuretic. You will find enthusiastic Doan's users the country over. Ask your neighbor!

for your home. Featuring the new process which imparts all of the beauty and texture of the original oil painting.

Reproductions of famous masterpieces take on new beauties of depth and coloring that have heretofore been lacking in flat finished pictures.

This extraordinary process will give you a keener appreciation of the Old Masters, for the dull, lifeless reproductions of former days have failed to bring out the latent richness of the colorings of the originals.

Have your pictures kept pace with the rest of your furnishings? But you'll be pleasantly surprised to note how smilingly your walls will respond to fair treatment. A handsome picture framed the modern way deserves the space now occupied by some faded heirloom.

These pictures are ideal for bed-rooms, dining rooms, halls and living rooms, for they are reproductions of Old Masters and floral studies.

Juvenile Bible Study

One question for each day is provided. The parent will find it interesting and helpful to have the child take up the question each day and aid it in finding the answer in the Scriptures, thus developing a knowledge of the Bible and where to find in it the things decided. Send or bring the little folks to the class Sunday at 1:45 p. m. The "Ceramic Cafeteria Auditorium," 121 West Fifth Street.

479. What two thoughts are understood by the word judgment?

Answer: First, a trial given for some purpose; and, second, a sentence pronounced according to the outcome of the trial.

480. What was the first judgment day?

Answer: The time when Adam was on trial for life in the Garden of Eden, the whole unborn race being in him.

481. What was the outcome of that trial?

Answer: Disobedience to the command of God, and therefore unworthiness for everlasting life.

482. What was the sentence pronounced for the failure in this trial for everlasting life?

Answer: "Thou shalt surely (really) die."—Genesis 2:17.

483. Does the Bible say that all are counted as sinners on account of Adam's sin and for that reason are unworthy of everlasting life?

Answer: Yes, it says: "By one man (Adam) sin entered into the world and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned."—Romans 5:12.

484. As the result of that trial, has the sentence of death been carried out against the human race?

Answer: Yes. A great many people are dying every day, and every ache or pain is death working in the human race.

485. How did God arrange it so that each one of the human race might have a chance individually to prove whether he is worthy of everlasting life?

Answer: "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."—John 3:16.

Avoid Faulty Elimination!

Good Health Requires Good Elimination.

THE kidneys filter the blood. They are constantly ridding the body of poisons. One should realize, then, how much good health depends upon good elimination. When toxic poisons are permitted to accumulate, there's apt to follow a tired, achy feeling and, often, a dull backache, with toxic headaches and dizziness. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is sometimes shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Many people have learned to assist their kidneys by drinking plenty of pure water and the occasional use of a stimulant diuretic. You will find enthusiastic Doan's users the country over. Ask your neighbor!

CHANGE SOUGHT IN SCHOOL LAW

State Department Plans Revision of Entire Fiscal System.

"Back to the constitution" is the slogan of the state department of education in its campaign to have the legislature enact laws which will require that the state itself stand for at least one-third of the money spent on public schools in the state.

The constitution provides that the state shall bear the expense of the schools and article 12, section five, which carried the provision, is being pointed out as the basis for the campaign to revise the school fiscal system.

The plan, however, has nothing to do with the suggested "county unit" except so far as the costs are concerned. At present the state's total school bill is around $27,000,000 and to this the department of education contributes about $2,000,000 annually, this sum coming from the earnings of the permanent $1,000,000 school fund investment required by law, forfeitures, fines and capitation taxes.

In order for the state to bear one-third of the support cost, it would have to contribute $9,000,000 as state aid instead of $2,000,000 as at the present. To obtain the $9,000,000 a revision of taxation would be necessary and the plan to do this would call for additional indirect taxation by the state and would work to reduce local tax rates.

An appeal has been made by the department of education to the legislative tax commission to incorporate in its recommendations to the next legislature, some plan which would operate to bring in the $9,000,000 for state aid to schools. In order to do this, it has been suggested that the commission recommend taxes on luxuries as is done in other states.

LABOR SITUATION GOOD IN STATE

There is very little unemployment in the state at this time, according to C. M. O'Neill, examiner in charge of the U. S. employment service at Charleston who has just completed his October report. The demand for miners continued throughout the month the report says.

Mr. O'Neill's report in part follows:

Employment conditions were exceptionally good during the month, there being very little unemployment in the state. There is a shortage of mine labor in the state and from the reports I have been receiving from other states there is not much likelihood of us getting any great number of miners from outside the state. The recent advance in the wage scale granted by the coal operators will be a great drawing card for the mines. Miners engaged in other occupations will go back to the mines as the present wage scale for mine work is much higher than the scale in other industries. A great number of our coal miners have left the state during the last ten months riding free transportation to certain sections of Pennsylvania where it was difficult to keep miners on account of conditions.

MIDLAND BARGE CO. SENDS BOAT TO COLOMBIA

All-Steel Craft Built for South American Firm.

COST $60,000

Carries 90 Tons of Freight on Long Trip.

An all-steel boat, recently completed by the Midland Barge company, a subsidiary of the Treadwell Construction company, Midland, today is enroute to Colombia, South America, where it will be used in inland water navigation. The craft, carrying 90 tons of freight, is expected to reach its destination within six weeks.

The boat, costing approximately $60,000, was built for the South American Gold and Platinum company which operates large gold, silver and platinum mines. It is the second of its kind to be built by the Midland concern for this company, the other craft being assembled and taking the water at Paanma. It will be used exclusively in the mining operations.

The craft, twin screw type, is equipped with the 80-horsepower Diesel oil burning engines and is capable of making a speed of 12 miles per hour. It is 82 feet in length, 18 feet in width and about seven feet deep. It has but one deck.

Fuel capacity of the craft is 1,800 gallons. It will average about one mile to each gallon of oil. Its sides are of three-sixteenths inch steel, the hull being galvanized to prevent rust.

The cargo includes steel products, coke and provisions. It will travel down the Ohio to the Mississippi river and thence to New Orleans. From New Orleans it will go to Key West, thence to Havana, to Jamaica and through the Panama Canal to Colombia, located on the west coast of South America. The boat draws approximately four feet of water with its present cargo.

The boat has been named "Betty," the name being selected by its owners. Its crew numbers seven men—captain, pilot, engineer, assistant engineer, cook and two deck hands.

One power plant owned by Liverpool is to have a capacity of 200,000 kilowatts.

Spain is turning to clased autos.

QUEEN MARIE PREPARES FOR CHICAGO FETE

Roumanian Royalty Awaits High Point of Trip.

SHE'S GODMOTHER

Princess and Prince Attend County Club Dance.

BY DAVIS P. SENTNER.

ABOARD QUEEN MARIE'S SPECIAL TRAIN (enroute to Chicago) Nov. 13.—It was "rest day" for Queen Marie of Roumania today. Garnering her strength for the four-day fete in Chicago, the high point in her transcontinental trip, her majesty arose late and left the comfort of her cushions only at Springfield, Ill., where she paid her respects to the tomb of Abraham Lincoln and decorated the memorial with a wreath.

The special is due in the Windy City at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. The queen, Pincess Ileana and Prince Nicolas spent a great part of the day talking over the cordial yet dignified reception accorded them in St. Louis.

Her majesty seemed proud of the fact she had acted as gomother for Marie Weber, of Smackover, Ark., two-year old child, whose mother is of Roumanian descent. When little Marie was christened in the Washington University chapel, queen Marie begged her godchild for a kiss.

"If you won't kiss me I'll kiss you anyway," her majesty declared.

The princess and prince cheated the routine program in St. Louis by stealing away for an informal dance at a country club. The princess danced with whomever asked her. The prince, who dances as skillfully as any American "sheik" sat out a number of dances with pretty girls.

The proposed southern trip of the royal party was "up in the air" pending satisfactory arrangements with the railroads, it was learned today. However, when the Royal Roumanian flyer returns to Washington on Nov. 24, the queen will visit Atlantic city while her children are viewing the Army-Navy football game in Chicago. If the southern itinerary goes through the royal children will meet their mother in White Sulphur Springs, Va.

Hall-Mills Murder Mystery Is Stranger Than Fiction

De Russey's Lane Crime is More Baffling Than Any Detective Story.

By James L. Gilgallen.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 13.—Stranger than fiction, more baffling in all its varied aspects than any detective story, is the real life murder mystery that is being unfolded, bit by bit, at the Hall-Mills trial. Today, the ninth day of the trial, the most deductive and penetrating minds were completely at a loss for the answer to the national riddle: "Who killed the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, and why?"

The state, in its case against the three on trial—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and her brothers, Willie and Henry Stevens—has been bringing forward witness after witness.

Highlights of Testimony.

The highlights of their testimony are:

Mrs. Hall was not at home at 10 o'clock the night of the murder, Sept. 14, 1922, at least her maid, Barbara Tough, didn't see her in the house when she returned at that hour. The time of the murder has been fixed at 10:20 p. m. The same maid heard Mrs. Hall enter the bathroom at 2 a. m. that fatal night.

Another maid in the Hall house, Louise Geist Riehl, testified that Mrs. Hall was home between 9:30 to 10 on the fatal night—that she was playing solitaire.

This witness also swore that early in the evening of the night of the murder Mrs. Mills called the minister on the telephone. The maid, on the second floor at the time, answered the phone. She looked over the banister to the floor below and saw Mrs. Hall with the extension telephone in her hand.

Mrs. Hall, it is understood, denies ever having been jealous of Mrs. Mills but admits having been out at 2 a. m. Having gone to the pastor's church in search of him when he failed to return home.

Willie Stevens' Role.

Now for Willie Stevens.

Are the fingerprints on "exhibit S17," Rev. Hall's professional card which was found near the bodies, those of Willie Stevens? Two noted fingerprint experts haxe testified yes. Was Willie out of the Hall home on the evening of the murder when he says he was at home? Mr. and Mrs. Dickson of North Plainfield testified Willie, "greatly agitated," was wandering on the night of the crime and called at their home about 8:30 p. m., inquiring his way to the Parker House, which is near the scene of the crime.

Willie has been quoted as saying he was in bed at 9 p. m. The maid, Barbara Tough, didn't see him at 10 p. m. when she came home that night. Also Mrs. Riehl, the other maid, testified that on the morning after the murders, Willie told her "something terrible happened last night. I'd rather not tell you. Don't tell Frances (Mrs Hall) I told you."

Henry Is "Crack Shot.

And as to Henry Stevens, the "crack shot:"

Ralph V. Gorsline, vestryman of the slain rector's church, was identified by William Garvin, formerly New York manager of the Burns Detective agency, as having accused Henry Stevens of firing two shots at him in De Russey's lane on the night of the murder, saying: "Get the hell out of here—this is none of your affair." Garvin said Gorsline came to him "conscience stricken" and told the story.

Also Mrs. Marie Demarest said she saw Henry Stevens in New Brunswick the day after the murder. He has claimed he was in Lavalette, N. J., on that particular date.

Proposed Election Code Changes

A special committee of ten members—three from the state senate, three from the lower house, Secretary of State Thad H. Brown and three others named by the latter officer—has recommended 22 changes in the Ohio election code, according to announcement by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley, executive secretary.

At least three of the proposals—elimination of the names of presidential electors, combining of national, state, district and county tickets on one ballot and changing the time of the state primaries from August to May—should meet with approval.

With the thought of economy, the committee has urged that all special propositions should be given places on the ballot containing the national, state, district and county tickets. In the event more than one special issue were submitted, the idea would not be looked upon with favor, for it would mean a ballot too long for convenience, not to mention the time required in counting precinct returns.

The plan of holding state primaries in May instead of August is a good one, for, as the committee suggests, this would permit preference for White House candidates and selection of state ticket nominees on the same day during presidential election years.

The committee also suggests that absentee electors certify absence from the county rather than the precinct. If adopted, this plan would disfranchise an elector who, although, absent from his home city, was employed or visiting in another subdivision of the county. Under the present law, he has the right to vote.

And, too, it would be unwise to reduce the number of election officers in a precinct which at any one elections casts 150 or less votes. The committee recommends that two judges and two clerks instead of six officers should handle the balloting in small sub-divisions. However, sight is lost of the fact that some of the largest precincts, especially in Columbiana county, cast light votes not frequently. And the four-man precinct board would face a hard job at any time the full strength poll resulted.

The committee's tentative draft of proposals fails to take into consideration the question of registration for cities such as East Liverpool, where, exclusive of rentals, it costs $168 a day for enrollment of voters. Under the present law, four days of registration must be designated prior to general elections, while at least two are set aside for pre-primary enrollment. The consensus of opinion of election officers in small cities is that other than presidential years, when general registration is the rule, one day is enough for enrollment as well as the issuance of transfers to electors who have changed their places of residence. Of course, other provisions would be necessary in larger centers.

The committee's action should prompt a general study of the situation on the part of the state legislators, and it is not improbable that it will mean a revision of the election laws to the end that soaring costs of balloting shall be reduced without impairment of the present plan of tabulating returns.

Congress This Winter

What will congress do when it convenes in December?

Old-timers, as they look over the situation, suggest that congress will not do much of anything between Dec. 6 and March 4—except talk. For various reasons, action will be difficult.

The senate will probably talk at length about the world court, but do nothing to change the status of this country's qualified application for membership, which the other members are disinclined to accept.

There will be a great deal of excited debate in both houses about what to do about income taxes and the treasury surplus, and possibly some sort of legislation on that point.

The diversion of water from the Great Lakes by Chicago, for drainage and navigation, will come up for discussion, and probably bring on a bitter wrangle between the two groups of lawmakers representing the Great Lakes and the Mississippi valley. That issue, however, may be settled by the supreme court during the winter, and thus taken out of the hands of congress.

There will be a fight to reduce the army and navy expenditures and personnel which may or may not succeed.

Farm relief will enlist attention, as usual, and what will be done about it, if anything, is anybody's guess.

The status of Muscle Shoals will be considered, with a view to final action, and with some insistence on government operation under the war department, which has made a good record with the Shoals plant this year.

For the most part, congress in this session may be regarded as less a legislative body than a reflection of the national state of mind. If no definite action is taken about important matters, it will be largely because the public lacks clear ideas and purposes about national issues.

As soon as the political campaign is over, the nation appropriately prepares for a festival of thanksgiving. Then, feeling very grateful for all it has, it prepares to give everything away at Christmas time. After that, it prepares to make a new start in sanity and thrift.

One thing, at least, America is very glad to do for England—dig coal for her.

WHAT'S NEWS IN WISCONSIN

This one has at least one merit. It really happened.

After several years spent in short story writing, a Milwaukee man buckled to and turned out a manuscript of novel length. He sent it off and the first editor to read it promptly accepted it by wire. When the proud and happy author reached home that evening carrying his treasured telegram in his hand, his little daughter met him at the front door.

"Honey," he said, "I've got some great news."

Oh, daddy!" she exclaimed. "What is it?"

Well," he said, prolonging the pleasant suspense. "I'll let you guess. Now think—what is the most important and the most exciting thing that could have happened today in the state of Wisconsin?"

"Oh, I know," she answered. "Senator La Follette has been run over by an automobile!"

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Harry Thaw has against become a conspicuous night life figure. He is vastly different from the high-strung young millionaire who came out of Pittsburgh 30 years ago to cut a swath along the path of the gleaners and wastrels.

The years have given him a certain complacency. The snows of many winters have thatched his hair with gray. His figure is portly and his manner subdued, but time has failed to erase certain mannerisms that mark him wherever he goes.

He has the same "starey" eyes, weak mouth and slight incoherency of speech when excited. He is frequently seen in this supper club and that, slipping in quietly to an obscure table and to all appearances alone but his bodyguard is always nearby.

Almost instantly he becomes the focal point of attention and the topic of subdued gossip. Cabaret girls spot him and usually toss him hurrying smiles for there are many stories of his generosity in passing out gold bank notes to performers.

In many ways he seems more the tired old man seeking light to banish torturous shadows than the gay boulevardier in quest of adventure. Once in a while he is recognized and invited to join revelers who see to it he gets the check.

And there are other times when he faces public snubs. Once, recently, he was invited to join a table at which sat a well known theatrical producer. When he sat down, the producer exploded: "Get away from me, I was at Madison Square Garden that night and saw you do it."

Thaw glared, his jaw muscles twiched and muttering something unintelligle he moved to another table. So, after a fashion, he becomes a rather pathetic figure for whether he realizes it or not to the world he bears the invisible mark of Cain.

One of the startling New York divorces is said to have resulted from a perfectly natural slip of an hotel auditor. A certain New Yorker bade his wife good-bye for an ostensible trip into the Maine wilderness where he would be out of touch by wire or telephone. Five days later came an envelope from a hotel in the middle west. The auditor explained there had been a slight overpayment during Mr. and Mrs. Blank's visit and enclosed a check. The wife opened the envelope, boarded the next train for that city—and the divorce resulted.

He wrote the story, collapsed into an illness from which he never fully recovered.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The Cotton Problem—III.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—Emergency relief in the cotton crisis has been effected, as has been explained. President Coolidge's commission, headed by Eugene Meyer, jr., and including Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, and Secretary of Commerce Hoover, has cooperated with state and local bankers and organizations of the South to finance the carrying over of the surplus crop for from eighteen months to two years. Cotton growers are being brought into an agreement to curtail their acreage next year by at least 25 per cent.

Experts agree, however, that much more must be done to work out anything approaching a final solution of the cotton problem. First aid to anybody injured is recognized as necessary and important, but it is rare that anyone seriously injured is permanently relieved or cured by first aid treatment. The victim usually needs hospital treatment. Admittedly the cotton grower is a hospital case. Probably he will find the cotton manufacturer on the next cot or in the adjoining room. Both are suffering primarily from the same complaint—too much cotton—with incidental complications.

The best informed diagnosticians available in Washington say that there are three things to be done to put both patients on their feet again.

First of all, they say, the cotton grower must gain confidence in his crop. He must get away from the idea that when he produces one of the world's greatest staples he is engaged in a highly hazardous or speculative enterprise. It is hazardous only to the degree that weather conditions, the boll weevil, and other untoward circumstances may make it so. It is speculative only to the extent that gamblers will prey upon either his adversity or his prosperity and to the degree to which he will permit himself to fall for their machinations.

The cotton grower must ground himself in the belief that in producing a world necessity he is rendering a world service, and therefore has a commodity that is worth more than the cost of production. He must realize the intrinsic value of his crop and no more think of selling it for less than its value than he would if it were so much gold. His banker will help him in this, if he will follow his banker's advice. In truth, if he has planted wisely and not too much, and cultivated well, and believes in his crop, he may find that he can increase materially his banker's confidence in it.

All of which means that the cotton grower should never permit himself to be frightened, cajoled, or coerced into borrowing upon his crop at whatever terms are laid down or into selling it at any price offered, if it be possible for him to stand up on his two legs and fight for what he knows his cotton is worth.

Next, The Manufacturer.

The other party to the cotton industry—the manufacturer, or spinner—next is told what his dose is to be. All done up in a capsule it is merely that he must stop trying to buy cheap cotton, or being afraid to buy cotton at a fair price because of the possibility that he might be able to get it a bit cheaper a little later on. If he gets that dose down and keeps it down he is told that his greatest contribution to the cotton industry in the present situation would be to begin buying cotton for his future needs, two or three years ahead, and to buy until it hurts.

He can rest assured, the experts say, that he will realize a profit on prices, because these prices are below any and all cotton he buys at present the cost of production and the growers can not, even if they would, continue to produce a crop and sell it at less than cost. The price might go lower, under extraordinary conditions such as have been breated by the bumper crop of this year, but that is doubtful, and whether or no, it is written down as a certainty that prices will be higher next year and the year after. Accordingly, the wise manufacturer will jump into the market right now and buy his cotton for next year and the year after at spot prices. Reports to two government departments show that there are many wise manufacturers who have been doing exactly that thing during the past week or ten days.

And why should the spinner try to buy cheap cotton? It has already been pointed out that the biggest market for domestic manufactures of cotton is in the South, and that if the South is going bankrupt raising cotton it can not possibly buy cotton products. But, here are government figures for the manufacturer to ponder: Between cotton at 25 cents, which is a cracking good price, and at 10 cents, which is an impossibly low price, the difference in the cost of a dress-length of gingham is only 6 cents. Shoppers might bear that in mind, too, when the retailer tells them the price of cotton has gone up!

Now for Cooperation.

The final part of the prescription is that the cotton grower and the cotton spinner, or manufacturer, must get together.

For so many years that the memory of man runs not to contrary the cotton grower has been possessed if not obsessed with the idea that the cotton spinner or manufacturer is his economic enemy. He has believed that the man who buys his raw cotton and transforms it into marketable wares is always trying to beat down the price of his cotton. He has felt that he is always in the position of having something that he must sell in a buyer's market, which is recognized in the marts of trade as a decidedly adverse market for a seller. He has suffered adversity which he has attributed largely to the rapacity of the buyers of his product.

On the other hand, while the manufacturers have never had any grounds for complaint that they were being held up in the matter of prices by the cotton growers, by reason of the intense competition among themselves they have fallen into the idea that they must buy their raw material at the cheapest possible price. And they have acted accordingly.

Now, say the doctors, if the cotton industry with all its ramifications is to get well and enjoy good health, the cotton growers and manufacturers must come to a realization that their interests are not kind of cooperation between them, it is said, revolutionary changes in the industry may be expected.

They must effect organizations that will undertake both scientific and commercial research—the first to develop new industrial uses for cotton, and the second to ferret out new markets for cotton products. In this work, it is promised, the Government will lend every possible assistance.

To revert to one of the fundamentals of the cotton planter—it isn't so important that his wife and daughter

Proposed Election Code Changes

A special committee of ten members—three from the state senate, three from the lower house, Secretary of State Thad H. Brown and three others named by the latter officer—has recommended 22 changes in the Ohio election code, according to announcement by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley, executive secretary.

At least three of the proposals—elimination of the names of presidential electors, combining of national, state, district and county tickets on one ballot and changing the time of the state primaries from August to May—should meet with approval.

With the thought of economy, the committee has urged that all special propositions should be given places on the ballot containing the national, state, district and county tickets. In the event more than one special issue were submitted, the idea would not be looked upon with favor, for it would mean a ballot too long for convenience, not to mention the time required in counting precinct returns.

The plan of holding state primaries in May instead of August is a good one, for, as the committee suggests, this would permit preference for White House candidates and selection of state ticket nominees on the same day during presidential election years.

The committee also suggests that absentee electors certify absence from the county rather than the precinct. If adopted, this plan would disfranchise an elector who, although, absent from his home city, was employed or visiting in another subdivision of the county. Under the present law, he has the right to vote.

And, too, it would be unwise to reduce the number of election officers in a precinct which at any one elections casts 150 or less votes. The committee recommends that two judges and two clerks instead of six officers should handle the balloting in small sub-divisions. However, sight is lost of the fact that some of the largest precincts, especially in Columbiana county, cast light votes not frequently. And the four-man precinct board would face a hard job at any time the full strength poll resulted.

The committee's tentative draft of proposals fails to take into consideration the question of registration for cities such as East Liverpool, where, exclusive of rentals, it costs $168 a day for enrollment of voters. Under the present law, four days of registration must be designated prior to general elections, while at least two are set aside for pre-primary enrollment. The consensus of opinion of election officers in small cities is that other than presidential years, when general registration is the rule, one day is enough for enrollment as well as the issuance of transfers to electors who have changed their places of residence. The committee's action should prompt a general study of the situation on the part of the state legislators, and it is not improbable that it will mean a revision of the election laws to the end that soaring costs of balloting shall be reduced without impairment of the present plan of tabulating returns.

BOOK FIVE—XI.

"Listen," said Peg, and prodded his ribs with her elbow to be sure that she had his attention. "I'm going to tell you something which I haven't any business telling you and which I wouldn't tell you if I didn't feel sure you'd be—well, call it interested. I know all about Cecily's affairs. I know how she met you, and what happened, and everything about it. And listen: as long as you are alive, and single, she'll never marry Bill Burnholme or anybody else. There. Bite down hard on that one!"

"Did she say that?"

"Words to that effect. And if putting you wise was a bum hunch I hope somebody shoots me!"

Jock, his face radiant and his heart doing strange alarming things within him, wrung her hand wordlessly, in token that it was not.

"Axiom One for Young men," chanted Peg, "established by Jock Hamill of New York City, after intensive personal research work: 'The way to find your ideal girl is, bring her up yourself!'"

XII.

They came upon their destination unexpectedly, over the crest of a little hill. Below them lay a green incline bisected by the road; at the foot of the incline a great house of white clapboard, with spacious porches at its sides and front and green-and-white awnings astir at its windows; and, on beyond the house, the stretching blue of water into sky. . . .

"Whew!" sighed Jock ecstatically.

"See that float anchored out a way?" Peg said. "Those little insects crawling around on it are the house-party. Part of it, anyway. The rest are probably on the dock—you can't see that from here, it's under the bluff.

"Jump into your suit quick, Jock," she concluded, as the car executed a sniveling stop beside the house, "and we'll get right down there."

Johnny conducted him upstairs into a huge bedroom boasting several cot beds and a tremendous litter of masculine effects. "This," explained Johnny, "is the bachelors' boudoir. All in here together, have more fun that way. Make it snappy now, will you Jock? We'll be ready in five minutes. Meet me downstairs."

Jock needed no exhortations to hurry. In several seconds less than five minutes he descended to the first floor again, and waited, full of a sense of expectancy so exquisite that it was scarcely to be endured. Johnny and Peg, descending a little after him, found him standing on the porch with his eyes toward the water, looking, as Peg whispered, "Like a statue of Adonis in tights."

She approached him and stood on tiptoe to lay a solicitous hand on his forehead. "Poor boy, how're you bearing up?" she begged. "Why, he's feverish! He ought to be put to bed!"

But Jock was past the point where he could jest. "Come on," he said. "Let's move." And then, as Peg and Johnny laughed at him, "That ole sea's going to feel good!"

"Dissembling to the last," Peg murmured.

When they reached the dock, however, he dissembled no longer. He surveyed the wet welcoming faces that surrounded him, listened to the cacophony of delighted voices for an instant, and then said quite simply, "Where's my girl?"

Of course they twitted him a little, being modern young people; but they answered. And in obedience to their answers he directed his glance toward the float that was anchored off shore. There were two figures on it, one large and mannish ("That's Larry Vane," somebody volunteered) the other little and slender and somehow breath-taking. Cecily. With a scarlet suit. . . . As he looked she flung up an arm in recognition and greeting.

"See you later," said Jock, and dived, and swam, using a swift crawl stroke and making a great churn of foam.

Half way to the float he lifted his head and saw Larry Vane almost beside him, going the other way. Larry grinned at him, and panted, "I abdicate—by request—you lucky stiff!"

Cecily was alone on the float. He could see her sitting there, at the edge, hugging her bare white knees in the curve of her arms, resting her chin upon them, smiling at him . . just ahead of him. . . .

All the things in the world that he wanted were just ahead of him. . . .

He buried his face in the cool green, and swam faster.

THE END.

STRAND BOOKS "HOYT'S GANG"

Musical Comedy and Vaudeville on Next Week's Program.

"Hal Hoyt's Gang," a smart musical comedy-vaudeville show, featuring Gene "Honey-Gal" Cobb and Jack "Smoke" Gray, will be the attraction at the Strand theatre for the coming week. "Hal Hoyt's Gang" is a musical comedy and vaudeville show that is hard to surpass; its singing voices away above the average, its dancers snappy and offering a number of the newest dances from Broadway hits, and the genius of its dance staff and its costumes and stage sets are all new and beautiful.

Cobb is considered one of the finest "burn cork artists" in the country, while Gray, whom Hoyt was fortunate enough to sign for the season, is termed the "last word" in black face comedians.

All the bills to be presented have been especially built around Cobb and Gray, and are replete with wholesome fun, clean snappy musical numbers, the most interesting of vaudeville specialties, and a Charleston dancing chorus of beauty, youth and charm.

Beautiful scenic equipment and lavish wardrobe are carried.

In addition to the scintillating chorus of girls, the company presents Alma Arliss, Jack Childs, Hazel Cobb Jack Bell, Patricia Myers, Al Laffman, the Brooks sisters and others well known in musical comedy circles.

GLITTER

By Katharine Brush

BOOK FIVE—XI.

"Listen," said Peg, and prodded his ribs with her elbow to be sure that she had his attention. "I'm going to tell you something which I haven't any business telling you and which I wouldn't tell you if I didn't feel sure you'd be—well, call it interested. I know all about Cecily's affairs. I know how she met you, and what happened, and everything about it. And listen: as long as you are alive, and single, she'll never marry Bill Burnholme or anybody else. There. Bite down hard on that one!"

"Did she say that?"

"Words to that effect. And if putting you wise was a bum hunch I hope somebody shoots me!"

Jock, his face radiant and his heart doing strange alarming things within him, wrung her hand wordlessly, in token that it was not.

"Axiom One for Young men," chanted Peg, "established by Jock Hamill of New York City, after intensive personal research work: 'The way to find your ideal girl is, bring her up yourself!'"

XII.

They came upon their destination unexpectedly, over the crest of a little hill. Below them lay a green incline bisected by the road; at the foot of the incline a great house of white clapboard, with spacious porches at its sides and front and green-and-white awnings astir at its windows; and, on beyond the house, the streching blue of water into sky. . . .

"Whew!" sighed Jock ecstatically.

"See that float anchored out a way?" Peg said. "Those little insects crawling around on it are the house-party. Part of it, anyway. The rest are probably on the dock—you can't see that from here, it's under the bluff.

"Jump into your suit quick, Jock," he concluded, as the car executed a sniveling stop beside the house, "and we'll get right down there."

Johnny conducted him upstairs into a huge bedroom boasting several cot beds and a tremendous litter of masculine effects. "This," explained Johnny, "is the bachelors' boudoir. All in here together, have more fun that way. Make it snappy now, will you Jock? We'll be ready in five minutes. Meet me downstairs."

Jock needed no exhortations to hurry. In several seconds less than five minutes he descended to the first floor again, and waited, full of a sense of expectancy so exquisite that it was scarcely to be endured. Johnny and Peg, descending a little after him, found him standing on the porch with his eyes toward the water, looking, as Peg whispered, "Like a statue of Adonis in tights."

She approached him and stood on tiptoe to lay a solicitous hand on his forehead. "Poor boy, how're you bearing up?" she begged. "Why, he's feverish! He ought to be put to bed!"

But Jock was past the point where he could jest. "Come on," he said. "Let's move." And then, as Peg and Johnny laughed at him, "That ole sea's going to feel good!"

"Dissembling to the last," Peg murmured.

When they reached the dock, however, he dissembled no longer. He surveyed the wet welcoming faces that surrounded him, listened to the cacophony of delighted voices for an instant, and then said quite simply, "Where's my girl?"

Of course they twitted him a little, being modern young people; but they answered. And in obedience to their answers he directed his glance toward the float that was anchored off shore. # EXPERT GUNNERS GUARD MELLETT DEATH SUSPECT

MACHINE GUNS AT ENTRANCE OF WORKHOUSE

Plot Reported Hatched to "Get" Pat McDermott.

MURDER "KEY MAN"

Canton Authorities Increase Vigilance as Trial Date Nears.

CANTON, O., Nov. 13.—Two machine guns, manned by expert gunners, were guarding the entrances of the Stark county workhouse today, following the receipt of a tip from an "official source" that a plot has been hatched to "get" Pat McDermott, dead or alive.

The guard has been increased over the institution, where McDermott, alleged "key man" in the Don R. Mellett murder, who is to go on trial here December 6 on a charge of first degree murder, is locked up.

Supt. John Boyer of the workhouse has divided his men into three shifts, each 24 hours, instead of two and has increased the number of guards. Boyer has transformed the workhouse into a veritable arsenal to forestall any attempt to "get" Pat. He credits his informant, whose name he refused to divulge.

It was the same man, Boyer said, who, four years ago, told him of an impending attack on the workhouse, just before the famous battle when four desperate bank bandits were shot to death on a farm to the north of Canton after kidnaping Chief of Police John "Jiggs" Wise, then a sergeant in the department.

Tipped Off Plot Four Years Ago.

"Four years ago," Boyer said today, "this same man told us that an attempt was going to be made to get Norman Warden, held here under the name of 'Oklahoma Slim'. We redoubled our guard then and Tommy Saxton and his gang came and were killed in the ensuing gun fight.

"I always have believed that they came to get 'Oklahoma Slim' but that their plans went wrong when 'Jiggs' stopped them."

Boyer declared that he is prepared for any attack on the institution. A wholesale escape at the workhouse was frustrated several months ago by vigilance of Boyer's wife and since that time Boyer has had additional guards, whose number was even more increased today with the tip on the plot against Pat.

The warning is the second Boyer has received recently. A week ago he received an anonymous letter asserting that three gangs were planning an attack and warning him of a plan to kidnap Boyer and his children.

The machine guns are so placed that two men could hold off an army seeking to approach Pat's cell, Boyer said.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—Higher prices for a small number of the motor and oil stocks were recorded in the short session of the stock market today, the "market leaders" were evidently under the pressure of profit taking.

Little encouragement for the immediate fututre could be derived from the week-end business reports, which found cross currents of good and bad business throughout the country. Bulls in Wall street hung tenaciously to the prospect of a large holiday business, with the expectation of more than the seasonal advances in important lines.

Chrysler and Hudson rose to 37¼ to 49 respectively; Hudson scoring a gain of 3 points in a drive against the shorts. Detroit dispatches indicated that production of cars by these two manufacturers had been little affected by the curtailment noted in othe rmotor plants. The oils made a good showing in the first hour, under the lead of Phillips and Marland, though buying demand fell off while profit taking and short selling of the market leaders was in greatest volume.

On the whole, the stock offerings of the professionals were well absorbed, and the moderate declines of a point or two in the active stocks was without particular effect on the balance of the list. The rails were quiet rather than eractionary and the investment stocks in this group commanded a good range of prices.

DR. MEL MORRIS MAY CLOSE HIS MEET SUNDAY

Two Services Tomorrow in First Baptist Church.

PRAYER TONIGHT

"We Must Decide for or Against Christ," Evangelist Warns.

"We are all Pilates in the sense that we must ultimately reply to query 'what shall I do with Jesus which is called Christ?'" asserted Rev. Mel Morris in a striking discourse at the First Baptist church revival on Fifth street last evening. "It is ours to crucify Him anew by preferring Barabbas or the world to Him. But sometime, somewhere a crisis in our lives will cause us to decide for or against Him."

That there can be no neutral ground in such a decision was pointed out by the evangelist as well as the fact that the responsibility of an answer can not be made by any person other than those to whom the query comes.

"You, wife, husband, brother, sister, children or friends can not take your place in making answer to this, the most important question, that you will face in this life," he said." "And your manner of answering will likewise spell your destiny in eternity and affect profoundly your existence in the life that now is yours."

Deep conviction settled upon the large audience in attendance during and following the preaching of the sermon. As a result the largest number that has yet gone forward to the mercy seat as penitents took the initial step at its conclusion which necessitated the holding of an extended after-service for which many present remained.

Carrying a banner on which was inscribed the name of the plant at which they are employed a good-sized contingent of the R. Thomas & Sons company attended the service in a body. They were given a cordial reception by Evangelist Morris and Pastor A. H. O'Brien.

The invocation and benediction were made by the Rev. Charles Spencer of New Cumberland, W. Va., who before his elevation into the ministry was connected with the Methodist Protestant church of this city.

Announcement was made of the holding in the church tonight of a prayer and singing service in lieu of the regular revival session. The former will begin at 7 and the latter at 8 o'clock.

Two sermons have been announced by Rev. Mr. Morris for Sunday's services when in all probability the revival will conclude. That in the morning will be on the subject, "The Unequal Yoke;" in the evening, his theme will be "A Message From Hell."

Marion Ball sang "That He Might Make Us Whole" during the musical service that preceued the sermon last night.

President Back

The one absent from Geneva was Cuba, which was the first of the five to agree to the American position. The American influence over Cuba is ample explanation of its readiness to accept the American viewpoint. Greece accepted by a note dated April 9; Liberia, May 11; Albania, August 11, and Luxemburg, August 21.

From Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Spain, Japan and the other major league powers there has come nothing but silence to the state department's formal notices of the senate's action. Their only answer has been the action at Geneva.

COL. GARIBALDI UNDER ARREST

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Colonel Ricciotti Garibaldi has been formally charged with possession of war arms and explosives and has been taken to the Palais de Justice for a preliminary hearing.

Colonel Garibaldi was detained after charges were made that he was acting as an agent provocateur in France on behalf of Italian fascists and that he had instigated the Catlonian attempt at revolt.

The filing of formal charges against Colonel Garibaldi came as a surprise, as it had been understood that no more serious action than deportation would be taken against him.

Another "Clubber" Scare in Toledo; Girl, 20, Attacked

TOLEDO, Nov. 13.—Toledo had another "clubber" scare today, when Clara Lovell, pretty 20-year-old girl, was found unconscious in a yard at 837 Western avenue. A passerby noticed her lying in the yard, and called a physician. The doctor declared she had been attacked and was suffering from an attack of "nerves."

Later the girl recovered consciousness and declared she had been struck by a negro near her home at midnight as she was returning from a visit to the home of a girl friend.

Hall-Mills Love Notes

er in New Brunswick in 1922, was called to the stand.

He testified that when he delivered milk at the Hall home between 4 and 5 a. m. on the morning after the murders, he found a door open at the rear of the Hall home.

"I never had seen this door open before in the time I had delivered milk there," he testified.

Tailor Shop Errand Boy's Story.

William J. Grealis, errand boy for a New Brunswick tailor shop four years ago, was called.

On the Saturday after the murder, he testified, he was sent by Mr. Lyons who owned the tailor shop to the Hall home to deliver some clothes. As he was leaving after having delivered the clothes, Willie Stevens called him and said:

"Come around the back, I have a suit I want you to take to have cleaned and scoured.

"Willie went inside. He reappeared shortly with a suit tied with a rope, told me to take it and have it cleaned and scoured and said he wanted it back next week'

"He was nervous and he made me go out the side way," the youth replied.

At the store, Grealis' brother untied the bundle.

"There were quite a few dark spots on the front of the vest and on the waistline of the trousers," said the witness.

The next time the youth saw the suit, he said, was when he was shown it at police headquarters in New Brunswick. It had not been cleaned.

Simpson asked the witness if the spots on the suit were red.

"No, dark," he replied.

Widow's Friend Testifies.

Miss Agnes Storer, for 10 years organist at the church of St. John the Evangelist at New Brunswick, testified that the night after the double murder, Mrs. Hall called her on the telephone and said the minister "would not be at choir rehearsal tonight. He is out of town."

Less than a year after the crime, Mrs. Hall invited her for a trip to Italy and sent went, the witness testified. She was gone from July 19 to Oct 7, 1923. Mrs. Hall paid her expenses.

"And you never asked Mrs. Hall why she said the night after the murder that he was out of town?" Prosecutor Simpson demanded.

"I did not," the witness replied.

Miss Storer, a refined looking woman, about 45 years old, talked in a low voice. She wore a heavy black fur coat, with a huge brown collar.

Miss Storer testified that she was a friend of both Mr. Hall and Mrs. Hall and that she still remains friendly with the slain rector's widow.

Reporter Is Recalled.

Herbert Mayer, a reporter for the New York Mirror, was recalled as the first witness. Mayer's paper was active in the investigation a few months ago which prompted the governor to appoint Senator Alexander Simpson as special prosecutor to reopen the probe of the mystery.

Counsel for the defense questioned Mayer about the trip that Mayer and Fred Drewen, fingerprint expert of Jersey City, made to see Joseph A. Fsurot, the noted Bertillon expert, at Middletown, N. Y. Drewen had with him the calling card found near the bodies of the Rev. Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills and which the state contends bore the fingerprints of Willie Stevens.

Mayer's trip was made for the purpose of getting a possible "story" he testified.

Mrs. Gibson Improving.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 13.—Doctors today reported a slight improvement in the condition of Mrs. Jane Gibson, star witness for the state in the Hall-Mills murder trial.

The blood transfusion which Mrs. Gibson underwent yesterday at the City hospital here, was said to have been successful. Mrs. Gibson rested quietly all night and seemed bright and cheerful today.

BANDIT KILLED IN GUN BATTLE

Policeman and Bystander Wounded in Attempted Hold-up.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A bandit was shot and killed and a policeman and a bystander wounded today, following a revolver battle between police nad bandits in an attempted jewelry store holdup at 38th street and Broadway. The scene of the holdup and shoting was directly opposite the Metropolitan Opera house.

The dead bandit was identified as Benjamin B. Grogan. With two companions he had entered the jewelry store of Jacob Silbergeld.

The jeweler showed fight and one bandit started to shoot.

Patrolman Lariga came running up and opened fire on the bandits. Arthur Beck, a passerby, grappled with one bandit and was wounded. The patrolman also was wounded. The two bandits who accompanied Grogan escaped in an automobile.

Annexation Verdict

valuations of property outside of the city at the present time would be increased if the city limits were extended. He was cross-examined by Attorney Boyd.

N. P. Kerr, president of council, said it was the intention of council to proceed with the extension of the water mains at once if the annexation plans were approved. Similar testimony was offered by Councilmen George Hughes, C. A. Goodballet and O. J. Herrington.

Mayor Benedum said that rates in the wards at the city hospital were $2.50 per day for residents of the city and $3 per day for non-residents. He also testified that a check-up of one petition presented from opponents of annexation showed but 78 of the 196 signers were residents of the territory which the city proposed to annex.

"Every advantage of a municipal character now enjoyed by the people within the city will be extended to residents of the new territory," the mayor declared.

City Engineer Flay Clapsaddle said the proposed new territory included approximately 450 homes.

Deverne Coburn, Maplewood, said he favored annexation, for he wanted city water, fire protection, electric lights and other improvements available for residents of the municipality.

Opposition Witnesses.

Richard E. Baxter, potter, whose property borders along La Belle avenue, which divides the city and township, was the first witness called by the opposition. Baxter said that he did not want to come into the city and "would not call the fire department if my home took fire."

Joseph Blazer, treasurer of the Potters' Savings & Loan company, and whose home is located in what is known as the Maplewood section, said he did not favor annexation for he believed he would not secure any road improvement. Blazer admitted that he had signed a petition for the extension of water mains along St. Clair avenue about a year and a half ago, but said that he was not concerned about city water now. He testified he owned 60 acres of land outside of the proposed new zone.

Charles Mackey said he lived inside the city limits and that he owned two houses, one of which he rents to his son-in-law, but "secures no rent." Mackey said he had received no city improvements.

William Smith, Maplewood, retired hardware dealer, created a sensation when he declared East Liverpool's filtrated water to be "impure." He said that the water taken from the river into which "200,000 people drain their sewers and is not fit to use." Upon cross-examination he admitted that he had sold for home sites his original 25 3-4 acres for many times more than it had cost 25 years ago.

John C. Cain, township trustee expressed the opinion that the township taxes would be decreased if the annexation move were successful and that the trustees would have little money for road improvements.

Trustees Oppose Move.

Joseph Croxall, another member of the township board, said that annexation might be a good proposition a few years hence, but he thought it inadvisable at present. Reduced finances would limit the means of the trustees to take care of roads in the township, Croxall testified.

Frank Azdell, Maplewood dairyman, said he sold 45 gallons of milk daily but that he could see no advantage in annexation. He declared that he kept his property insured against fire and for that reason fire protection meant nothing to him. Azdell had no answer to make when city counsel asked "What if your house should catch afire while you and your family were asleep?"

George Persohn, another township trustee, offered testimony similar to that given by Croxall and Cain, opposing annexation.

Dr. J. P. Ebert, optometrist, living along the Lincoln highway, said he was opposed to extension of the city limits claiming that residents of the city had no police or fire protection. He said the valuation of his property would be decreased if it were taken into the city and that the fire department from the Central station could not reach his home in time to save it, should it catch afire.

At this point the hearing was ended.

Airplane Attack Marks New Outbreak In Marion, Ill.

MARION, Ill., Nov. 13.—Governor Len Small was being urged in telegrams from citizens here today to send national guardsmen into "bloody" Williamson county, following the latest outbreak of gang warfare here.

The feature of the new outbreak was an airplane bombardment of one of the gangster camps. Two men in an airplane flew over the fortified roadhouse of Charles Birger, leader of one of the warring factions.

Three bombs were dropped over the property. One exploded, causing considerable damage but no loss of life. The other two failed to explode.

The scene was reminiscent of the late World war. As soon as the aerial attack began, Birger's men rushed from the house, mounted machine guns on tripods and began firing at the low-flying plane.

The plane flew away, no one seemed to know where.

EXPERT GUNNERS GUARD MELLETT DEATH SUSPECT

MACHINE GUNS AT ENTRANCE OF WORKHOUSE

Plot Reported Hatched to "Get" Pat McDermott.

MURDER "KEY MAN"

Canton Authorities Increase Vigilance as Trial Date Nears.

CANTON, O., Nov. 13.—Two machine guns, manned by expert gunners, were guarding the entrances of the Stark county workhouse today, following the receipt of a tip from an "official source" that a plot has been hatched to "get" Pat McDermott, dead or alive.

The guard has been increased over the institution, where McDermott, alleged "key man" in the Don R. Mellett murder, who is to go on trial here December 6 on a charge of first degree murder, is locked up.

Supt. John Boyer of the workhouse has divided his men into three shifts, each 24 hours, instead of two and has increased the number of guards. Boyer has transformed the workhouse into a veritable arsenal to forestall any attempt to "get" Pat. He credits his informant, whose name he refused to divulge.

It was the same man, Boyer said, who, four years ago, told him of an impending attack on the workhouse, just before the famous battle when four desperate bank bandits were shot to death on a farm to the north of Canton after kidnaping Chief of Police John "Jiggs" Wise, then a sergeant in the department.

Tipped Off Plot Four Years Ago.

"Four years ago," Boyer said today, "this same man told us that an attempt was going to be made to get Norman Warden, held here under the name of 'Oklahoma Slim'. We redoubled our guard then and Tommy Saxton and his gang came and were killed in the ensuing gun fight.

"I always have believed that they came to get 'Oklahoma Slim' but that their plans went wrong when 'Jiggs' stopped them."

Boyer declared that he is prepared for any attack on the institution. A wholesale escape at the workhouse was frustrated several months ago by vigilance of Boyer's wife and since that time Boyer has had additional guards, whose number was even more increased today with the tip on the plot against Pat.

The warning is the second Boyer has received recently. A week ago he received an anonymous letter asserting that three gangs were planning an attack and warning him of a plan to kidnap Boyer and his children.

The machine guns are so placed that two men could hold off an army seeking to approach Pat's cell, Boyer said.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—Higher prices for a small number of the motor and oil stocks were recorded in the short session of the stock market today, the "market leaders" were evidently under the pressure of profit taking.

Little encouragement for the immediate fututre could be derived from the week-end business reports, which found cross currents of good and bad business throughout the country. Bulls in Wall street hung tenaciously to the prospect of a large holiday business, with the expectation of more than the seasonal advances in important lines.

Chrysler and Hudson rose to 37¼ to 49 respectively; Hudson scoring a gain of 3 points in a drive against the shorts. Detroit dispatches indicated that production of cars by these two manufacturers had been little affected by the curtailment noted in othe rmotor plants. The oils made a good showing in the first hour, under the lead of Phillips and Marland, though buying demand fell off while profit taking and short selling of the market leaders was in greatest volume.

On the whole, the stock offerings of the professionals were well absorbed, and the moderate declines of a point or two in the active stocks was without particular effect on the balance of the list. The rails were quiet rather than eractionary and the investment stocks in this group commanded a good range of prices.

Two Services Tomorrow in First Baptist Church.

PRAYER TONIGHT

"We Must Decide for or Against Christ," Evangelist Warns.

"We are all Pilates in the sense that we must ultimately reply to query 'what shall I do with Jesus which is called Christ?'" asserted Rev. Mel Morris in a striking discourse at the First Baptist church revival on Fifth street last evening. "It is ours to crucify Him anew by preferring Barabbas or the world to Him. But sometime, somewhere a crisis in our lives will cause us to decide for or against Him."

That there can be no neutral ground in such a decision was pointed out by the evangelist as well as the fact that the responsibility of an answer can not be made by any person other than those to whom the query comes.

"You, wife, husband, brother, sister, children or friends can not take your place in making answer to this, the most important question, that you will face in this life," he said." "And your manner of answering will likewise spell your destiny in eternity and affect profoundly your existence in the life that now is yours."

Deep conviction settled upon the large audience in attendance during and following the preaching of the sermon. As a result the largest number that has yet gone forward to the mercy seat as penitents took the initial step at its conclusion which necessitated the holding of an extended after-service for which many present remained.

Carrying a banner on which was inscribed the name of the plant at which they are employed a good-sized contingent of the R. Thomas & Sons company attended the service in a body. They were given a cordial reception by Evangelist Morris and Pastor A. H. O'Brien.

The invocation and benediction were made by the Rev. Charles Spencer of New Cumberland, W. Va., who before his elevation into the ministry was connected with the Methodist Protestant church of this city.

Announcement was made of the holding in the church tonight of a prayer and singing service in lieu of the regular revival session. The former will begin at 7 and the latter at 8 o'clock.

Two sermons have been announced by Rev. Mr. Morris for Sunday's services when in all probability the revival will conclude. That in the morning will be on the subject, "The Unequal Yoke;" in the evening, his theme will be "A Message From Hell."

Marion Ball sang "That He Might Make Us Whole" during the musical service that preceued the sermon last night.

President Back

The one absent from Geneva was Cuba, which was the first of the five to agree to the American position. The American influence over Cuba is ample explanation of its readiness to accept the American viewpoint. Greece accepted by a note dated April 9; Liberia, May 11; Albania, August 11, and Luxemburg, August 21.

From Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Spain, Japan and the other major league powers there has come nothing but silence to the state department's formal notices of the senate's action. Their only answer has been the action at Geneva.

COL. GARIBALDI UNDER ARREST

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Colonel Ricciotti Garibaldi has been formally charged with possession of war arms and explosives and has been taken to the Palais de Justice for a preliminary hearing.

Colonel Garibaldi was detained after charges were made that he was acting as an agent provocateur in France on behalf of Italian fascists and that he had instigated the Catlonian attempt at revolt.

The filing of formal charges against Colonel Garibaldi came as a surprise, as it had been understood that no more serious action than deportation would be taken against him.

Hall-Mills Love Notes

er in New Brunswick in 1922, was called to the stand.

He testified that when he delivered milk at the Hall home between 4 and 5 a. m. on the morning after the murders, he found a door open at the rear of the Hall home.

"I never had seen this door open before in the time I had delivered milk there," he testified.

Tailor Shop Errand Boy's Story.

William J. Grealis, errand boy for a New Brunswick tailor shop four years ago, was called.

On the Saturday after the murder, he testified, he was sent by Mr. Lyons who owned the tailor shop to the Hall home to deliver some clothes. As he was leaving after having delivered the clothes, Willie Stevens called him and said:

"Come around the back. I have a suit I want you to take to have cleaned and scoured.

"Willie went inside. He reappeared shortly with a suit tied with a rope, told me to take it and have it cleaned and scoured and said he wanted it back next week'

"He was nervous and he made me go out the side way," the youth replied.

At the store, Grealis' brother untied the bundle.

"There were quite a few dark spots on the front of the vest and on the waistline of the trousers," said the witness.

The next time the youth saw the suit, he said, was when he was shown it at police headquarters in New Brunswick. It had not been cleaned.

Simpson asked the witness if the spots on the suit were red.

"No, dark," he replied.

Widow's Friend Testifies.

Miss Agnes Storer, for 10 years organist at the church of St. John the Evangelist at New Brunswick, testified that the night after the double murder, Mrs. Hall called her on the telephone and said the minister "would not be at choir rehearsal tonight. He is out of town."

Less than a year after the crime, Mrs. Hall invited her for a trip to Italy and sent went, the witness testified. She was gone from July 19 to Oct 7, 1923. Mrs. Hall paid her expenses.

"And you never asked Mrs. Hall why she said the night after the murder that he was out of town?" Prosecutor Simpson demanded.

"I did not," the witness replied.

Miss Storer, a refined looking woman, about 45 years old, talked in a low voice. She wore a heavy black fur coat, with a huge brown collar.

Miss Storer testified that she was a friend of both Mr. Hall and Mrs. Hall and that she still remains friendly with the slain rector's widow.

Reporter Is Recalled.

Herbert Mayer, a reporter for the New York Mirror, was recalled as the first witness. Mayer's paper was active in the investigation a few months ago which prompted the governor to appoint Senator Alexander Simpson as special prosecutor to reopen the probe of the mystery.

Counsel for the defense questioned Mayer about the trip that Mayer and Fred Drewen, fingerprint expert of Jersey City, made to see Joseph A. Faurot, the noted Bertillon expert, at Middletown, N. Y. Drewen had with him the calling card found near the bodies of the Rev. Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills and which the state contends bore the fingerprints of Willie Stevens.

Mayer's trip was made for the purpose of getting a possible "story" he testified.

Mrs. Gibson Improving.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 13.—Doctors today reported a slight improvement in the condition of Mrs. Jane Gibson, star witness for the state in the Hall-Mills murder trial.

The blood transfusion which Mrs. Gibson underwent yesterday at the City hospital here, was said to have been successful. Mrs. Gibson rested quietly all night and seemed bright and cheerful today.

BANDIT KILLED IN GUN BATTLE

Policeman and Bystander Wounded in Attempted Hold-up.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A bandit was shot and killed and a policeman and a bystander wounded today, following a revolver battle between police nad bandits in an attempted jewelry store holdup at 38th street and Broadway. The scene of the holdup and shoting was directly opposite the Metropolitan Opera house.

The dead bandit was identified as Benjamin B. Grogan. With two companions he had entered the jewelry store of Jacob Silbergeld.

The jeweler showed fight and one bandit started to shoot.

Patrolman Lariga came running up and opened fire on the bandits. Arthur Beck, a passerby, grappled with one bandit and was wounded. The patrolman also was wounded. The two bandks who accompanied Grogan escaped in an automobile.

Annexation Verdict

valuations of property outside of the city at the present time would be increased if the city limits were extended. He was cross-examined by Attorney Boyd.

N. P. Kerr, president of council, said it was the intention of council to proceed with the extension of the water mains at once if the annexation plans were approved. Similar testimony was offered by Councilmen George Hughes, C. A. Goodballet and O. J. Herrington.

Mayor Benedum said that rates in the wards at the city hospital were $2.50 per day for residents of the city and $3 per day for non-residents. He also testified that a check-up of one petition presented from opponents of annexation showed but 78 of the 196 signers were residents of the territory which the city proposed to annex.

"Every advantage of a municipal character now enjoyed by the people within the city will be extended to residents of the new territory," the mayor declared.

City Engineer Flay Clapsaddle said the proposed new territory included approximately 450 homes.

Deverne Coburn, Maplewood, said he favored annexation, for he wanted city water, fire protection, electric lights and other improvements available for residents of the municipality.

Opposition Witnesses.

Richard E. Baxter, potter, whose property borders along La Belle avenue, which divides the city and township, was the first witness called by the opposition. Baxter said that he did not want to come into the city and "would not call the fire department if my home took fire."

Joseph Blazer, treasurer of the Potters' Savings & Loan company, and whose home is located in what is known as the Maplewood section, said he did not favor annexation for he believed he would not secure any road improvement. Blazer admitted that he had signed a petition for the extension of water mains along St. Clair avenue about a year and a half ago, but said that he was not concerned about city water now. He testified he owned 60 acres of land outside of the proposed new zone.

Charles Mackey said he lived inside the city limits and that he owned two houses, one of which he rents to his son-in-law, but "secures no rent." Mackey said he had received no city improvements.

William Smith, Maplewood, retired hardware dealer, created a sensation when he declared East Liverpool's filtrated water to be "impure." He said that the water taken from the river into which "200,000 people drain their sewers and is not fit to use." Upon cross-examination he admitted that he had sold for home sites his original 25 3-4 acres for many times more than it had cost 25 years ago.

John C. Cain, township trustee expressed the opinion that the township taxes would be decreased if the annexation move were successful and that the trustees would have little money for road improvements.

Trustees Oppose Move.

Joseph Croxall, another member of the township board, said that annexation might be a good proposition a few years hence, but he thought it inadvisable at present. Reduced finances would limit the means of the trustees to take care of roads in the township, Croxall testified.

Frank Azdell, Maplewood dairyman, said he sold 45 gallons of milk daily but that he could see no advantage in annexation. He declared that he kept his property insured against fire and for that reason fire protection meant nothing to him. Azdell had no answer to make when city counsel asked "What if your house should catch afire while you and your family were asleep?"

George Persohn, another township trustee, offered testimony similar to that given by Croxall and Cain, opposing annexation.

Dr. J. P. Ebert, optometrist, living along the Lincoln highway, said he was opposed to extension of the city limits claiming that residents of the city had no police or fire protection. He said the valuation of his property would be decreased if it were taken into the city and that the fire department from the Central station could not reach his home in time to save it, should it catch afire.

At this point the hearing was ended.

Airplane Attack Marks New Outbreak In Marion, Ill.

MARION, Ill., Nov. 13.—Governor Len Small was being urged in telegrams from citizens here today to send national guardsmen into "bloody" Williamson county, following the latest outbreak of gang warfare here.

The feature of the new outbreak was an airplane bombardment of one of the gangster camps. Two men in an airplane flew over the fortified roadhouse of Charles Birger, leader of one of the warring factions.

Three bombs were dropped over the property. One exploded, causing considerable damage but no loss of life. The other two failed to explode.

The scene was reminiscent of the late World war. As soon as the aerial attack began, Birger's men rushed from the house, mounted machine guns on tripods and began firing at the low-flying plane.

The plane flew away, no one seemed to know where.

MISS GRIFFITH AT AMERICAN

Corrine is Starred in Film, "Marriage Whirl."

Corinne Griffith's new First National picture, "The Marriage Whirl," which will be the attraction at the Ceramic theatre, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is full of life and jazz.

It moves quickly from a novel masquerade party to a dance of the Sixty Club, showing the acme of New York's night life, and from that to the all-night restaurants of Paris.

That the present generation is under the influence of jazz goes without a doubt. Jazz has become its national anthem. The path that this leads to is full of danger and pitfalls to those who are not aware of them. To call this to the attention of the American public, J. Hartley Manners wrote that successful New York play, "The National Anthem." It was from this play that "The Marriage Whirl" was adapted.

In support of Miss Griffith is an imposing array of names familiar to theatre goers. Harrison Ford and Kenneth Harlan play the leading roles. Mita Naldi lends her personality to the role of a French dancer. Others in the cast include Charles Lane, E. J. Ratcliffe and Edgar Norton.

The picture was directed by Al Santell.

"GIRL FRIEND" HERE TUESDAY

Musical Comedy Has Modern Plot and Good Music.

Lew Fields' New York, Vanderbilt theatre success, "The Girl Friend," which will be the offering at Ceramic theatre, Tuesday evening, Nov. 16, promises to be one of the greatest musical comedy treats of the season. In the first place, it is said to have a plot that is modern and good enough to stand alone in the second place, the music is something to talk about. It is jazzy, but with an undertone of melody and a graceful lilt that commend themselves to those who prefer their syncopation diluted. Thirdly it is presented by a cast specially selected and rehearsed by Mr. Fields to give an effervescent performance in rapid tempo.

The tuneful melodies besides the principal song hits, "The Girl Friend" and "The Blue Room," which are familiar to local music lovers, are "Why Do I?" "The Damsel Who Done All the Dirt," "Town Hall Tonight," "Good Fellow Mine," "He's a Winner," "I'd Like to Take You Home" and "What Is It?"

Big Ten Records Broken As 90,000 Watch State-Michigan

Conference Records Of Two Teams Clean; Noted Stars In Tilt

Michigan, Although Not in Best of Condition Yost Claims, Confident in Strength of Its Super-backfield; Karow and Hess Rank as Aces of Buckeye Eleven.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13.—All Big Ten conference attendance records were slated to go by the boards here this afternoon when 90,000 rabid, wild-eyed football partizans cram their way into Ohio stadium to see the Buckeye eleven clash with "Hurry Up" Yost's Michigan gridders in a decisive conference battle. Neither team has been defeated, and upon the outcome of today's game depends the title hopes of both squads.

The Michigan gridders, although claimed by Yost not to be in the best of condition, were confident that the strength of their super-backfield, headed by Bennie Friedman, Cleveland youth, would offset any superiority in Ohio's line. Marty Karow and Hess, All-American guard, were the aces of the Ohio eleven.

Columbus today was surrendered without reservation to the hosts of enthusiasts who poured in from every quarter of the compass by auto, train and afoot. The town was literally football crazy, and no other topic was discussed, as thousands milled about seeking tickets which have not been available for two weeks:

The probable lineup:

| OHIO | | MICHIGAN |
|---|---|---|
| Bell | L. E. | Oosterbaan |
| Raskowski | L. T. | Baer |
| Meyer | L. G. | Dewey |
| Klein | C. | Schoenfeld |
| Hess | R. G. | Lovette |
| Uridil | R. T. | Gabel |
| Rowan | R. E. | Flora |
| Clark | Q. B. | Friedman |
| Kruskamp | L. H. | Gilbert |
| Grim | R. H. | Molenda |
| Karow | F. B. | Weber |

Field Goal May Win Grid Tilt Between Penn and Columbia

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—Although Penn's attack has failed to score a touchdown in the last two games, while Columbia showed a real winning punch against Cornell, the Quakers nevertheless, are favored to defeat the Lions at Franklin Field this afternoon. While the Red and Blue failed to produce scoring power against Illinois and Penn State, it presented a defense ranking with the best, yielding only one field goal.

The defenses of both Columbia and Penn have shown up so well so far that in the opinion of many, a field goal may settle the issue. In Paul Scull, a sophomore, the Red and Blue has one of the finest drop kickers seen here in years. For Columbia, Captain Bill Madden will do the field goal booting, inasmuch as he is an unusually dependable placement kicker.

Penn is regarded as slightly superior to Columbia on the line to the extent that the Red and Blue has shown a better offensive charge. In weight the two forward walls are evenly matched, both teams tipping the beam at 184 pounds.

Sets New Record In Balkline Play

Roger Conti above, young French billiardist, has just set a new world's record for the 18.2 balkline game by making a run of 732 in a match against Louis Cure at the Olympia club in Paris. Edouard Horemans held the previous record of 701.

THINK CORNELL IS 'DUE' TODAY

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Although Dartmouth was favored to defeat Cornell in their annual gridiron classic here today, the big red eleven took the field today condifent of victory. Cornell rooters believed the team was due to "find itself."

Coach Dobie, usually pessimistic, declared that the Ithacans would put up a hard fight. He conceded the superior strength of Dartmouth in backfield play and forward passing, however.

Carries 7 to 5 Odds in Contest With Yale.

By Frank E. O'Neill.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 13.—Yale's sturdy Bulldog invades Palmer stadium today to tackle the rampant Tiger in his jungle stronghold. Ears half gone and tail chewed, its heaving sides dripping blood from many wounds, the Bulldog yields yardage to no Tiger.

What if the betting odds were 7 to 5 on Princeton this morning? What if critics predict another beating for the Blue? Yale has been on the short end of betting odds in other years, but Yale came through.

Added zest has been given to this game by the break in relations between Harvard and Princeton. It is Princeton's last "Big Three" contest. A crowd of 55,000 enthusiasts was expected.

Yale's weakened backfield may be stiffened by the return of Bill Kline. Reports from Ridgeway, Pa., have it that Kline will play. Only yesterday Kline stood at the side of his mother's grave, his heart torn by the greatest grief a human being may know. Football seemed beyond him then as he witnessed the last sad rites of a burial service. But there is the story told in subdued whispers that Bill's mother wished him to carry on for Yale in its need, and 'tis said that Bill will give all he has in his greatest game of the Blue season.

There is no known method of computing football power by which more than a fighting chance of victory can be given to Yale in this strife. Yale has not scored a point in three games. Brown, Army and Maryland defeated Yale in succession.

This is the final game of the Princeton schedule. The team that defeated Harvard is intact and ready to go.

The probable lineup:

| Princeton. | | Yale. |
|---|---|---|
| Lawler | L.E. | Scott |
| Darby | L.T. | Richards |
| Davis | L.G. | Sturhahn |
| Bartell | C. | Harvey |

| Moeser | R.E. | Fishwick |
| Caulkins | Q.B. | Bunnell |
| Bridges | L.H. | Holabird |
| Slagle | R.H. | Failing |
| Miles | F.B. | Kline or Cox |

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

From the top of the back swing and just as you start to swing the club forward, it is always a good idea to have in mind that from where you are — at the top — you are going to hit diagonally across the ball from left to right, or from the inside out. There is a considerable difference between contemplating the hitting swing this way as against thinking of hitting into the ball and actually straight through it. If you do the latter, you will almost certainly hit around to the left as you go through the ball. If you try to hit diagonally across the ball you will actually hit straight through it. If you cut divots across the ine on your iron shots you should try hitting diagonally across, as here described. You will then see the straight divot mark. This will change timing just slightly, but you will very easily feel your way into the right timing. The hit will feel much more solid, too, and the ball will fly straight.

MICHIGAN BANS GRID PARTIES

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 13.—Inability to cope with the problem raised by attendance of alumni and guests today caused the senate committee on student affairs to ban fraternity and sorority dances on Saturdays of home football games at the University of Michigan.

The new measure will seek to eliminate the alleged "drinking bouts" at fraternity houses in after-game celebrations.

Charges that the alumni and guests of fraternities were usually to blame for "wet" parties were made last year when President Clarence Cook Little first took the reins in his own hands.

Unbeaten Teams Will Be Fewer This Afternoon

Crucial Games Billed in Practically all Sections.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The list of undefeated gridiron elevens is likely to be depleted by sundown today. The Army-Notre Dame clash here marks the meeting of two undefeated teams. The Navy-Georgetown engagement at Annapolis brings together Bill Ingram's undefeated middies and Lou Little's scrappy Georgetown pupils. Brown, yet to be defeated, clashes with Harvard at Cambridge. Ohio State and Michigan meet in the middle-west.

Besides these contests the eastern football card calls for the Yale-Princeton classic at Princeton, the Pittsburgh-Washington and Jefferson game at Pittsburgh, the Syracuse-Colgate conflict at Syracuse, the Pennsylvania-Columbia engagement at Philadelphia, and the Cornell-Dartmouth tussle at Ithica, all of which give promise of bringing some real first class football to the east.

The Tigers, because of their victory over Harvard, are a slight favorite over the Bulldogs. Bill Roper is the sort of coach who banks his entire season on his final games, and the Tigers will have no excuse to offer should they lose. Dotl's punting, Hewitt's line plunging, Murrell's all-around playing and Harding's fine generalship should steer the Army gridiron tank to victory over Notre Dame.

The Navy is going to find its task of keeping its slate clean a most difficult one. Lou Little has developed a real he-man's team at Georgetown.

Brown is going to find Harvard in a fighting mood up at Cambridge, but should win.

In all Poland there are only 2,300 taxis, but this is 700 more than were there a year ago.

Fight Results

AT TOLEDO, O.—Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, won decision over Jack Duffy of Toledo, twelve rounds. Don Boyer, Toledo, knocked out Patsy Kline, of New York, in the second round.

AT TAMPA, FLA. — Bermondey Billy Wells, of England, won decision over Julian Moran, of Havana, Cuba, ten rounds. Willie Herman, of New York, won decision over Arramis Delpino, of Havana, ten rounds.

AT MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Jimmy Delaney, of St. Paul, won decision over Johnny Risko, of Cleveland, ten rounds.

AT MIAMI, FLA.—Armando Shekels, of Belgium, won decision over Kewpie Trimble, of Chicago, ten rounds.

AT CLEVELAND, O.—Johnny Farr, of Cleveland, won decision over Johnny Datto, of the Philippine Islands, twelve rounds. Jimmy Mendo, of Cleveland, won decision over Billy Herrold, of California, six rounds.

AT SAN FRANCISCO.—Young Jack Thompson, of San Diego, and Ted Makagon, of San Francisco, drew, ten rounds.

AT DETROIT — Clarence Rosen knocked out Pete Firpo in sixth round. Andy Chaney, Baltimore, lost on a foul to Lee Hardy, Detroit. Jakie Dombrowski, Detroit, got decision over Al Marchant, England.

Navy-Georgetown Clash Today After Seven-year Lapse

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 13. — The Navy and Georgetown resumed football relations today after a lapse of seven years.

Twenty thousand spectators will sit in at Farragut field this afternoon when Lou Little leads his Hilltoppers against the undefeated Middie aggregation, and twice that number would be there if there were accomodations.

Georgetown has a powerful team to throw against the unbeaten Navy team, which is considered the strongest in years. A close one is anticipated, with the Navy being given the edge by most experts. The betting, however, is at even money.

Veteran Army Outfit Called Perfect Team

Truth of Claim Will be Determined Today When Cadets Meet Notre Dame; Battle Between Rivals is Likened to Clash of Rapier and Blunderbuss; 70,000 See Scrap.

By David J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Notre Dame and the Army, rapier and night-stick of collegiate football, will oblige this afternoon with the thrust, the parry, the hammer and tongs, peculiarly typical of the weapons in question while an oversize crowd of 70,000 goes off its community nut over the pulsating details. Annual rivals, annual friends, both teams have come up to this, the greatest intersectional meeting of the year, undefeated and the outfit that survivies the issue will find few to say it nay.

The Army, veteran to its heels except where better men have come in from the outside to chase the old timers hence, has been hailed as the perfect team by the inspired prophets and maybe it is. The matter either will be proved or thoroughly disproved this afternoon, for Notre Dame has been occupied with a bit of deep thinking over that 27 to 0 disaster of last year and the fact that it seems to be a typical Rockne eleven will do it practically no harm, either.

Betting at Even Money.

This, in fact, will be a football game from the moment they turn them loose until that last, despairing whistle sends them back. The betting is at even money and couldn't be anything else.

The Army has an all-American line, featuring Born, an end, Daly at center, all-American candidates both. In the backfield, Harding, quarterback, and Wilson, halfback, are hangovers of other years while Murrell, from Minnesota, and Cagle, from Louisiana Poly, have been good enough to send Tiny Hewitt, team captain and a star at old Pitt, to the sidelines and keep him there. The more or less incapacitated Trapnell may be available for any and all emergencies.

Army Record Impressive.

It is an immpressive array, in truth, and its records of victories over Syracuse and Yale, the latter by 33 to 0, is hardly less so.

Incidentally, the teams are almost identically those that participated in the 1925 rout of the Irish, yet phychologically they are different. The Army was a fine defensive team then and smother Notre Dame's passing game in its infancy. But today, the suspicion existed that the Army was not altogether fool proof in its open field tackling nor its defense against the pass, if that be true, a fine time will be had by all.

Have New "Horseman."

For this Notre Dame team came back and lived down its disaster before the end of the 1925 season and today it is said to be as good as the 1924 outfit, featuring the famous four horsemen. They even go so far as to say that the present backfield of Edwards, Flangan, Hearden and Roach rivals the Stuhldreher-Miller-Crowley-Layden combination in speed and general effectiveness and certainly Notre Dame's record of victories over Minnesota, Penn State, Northwestern, Georgie Tech and Indiana hardly gives the lie direct to this impression.

The line, too, is believed to be sound defensively and a terror on attack, with Boeringer being so adept at center that they had to make an end of Maxwell, the veteran.

Quite so: these are great teams and the best part about them is that they have won all of their games without uncovering the strategic hand. The Army didn't throw a pass in scoring 33 points on Yale; the Irish have had second and third stringers operating the greater part of their games.

Irish Smarter.

Therefore, neither knows what to expect. Still, it is believed that Notre Dame is the smarter outfit and will be equipped with greater finesse and deception.

It will be the old story of the rapier versus the blunderbuss. I prefer the rapier provided it gets to the point of attack with all due haste. If it doesn't—good night, beloved.

The probable lineup follows:

| Army. | | Notre Dame. |
|---|---|---|
| Born | L.E. | Voedisch |
| Sprague | L.T. | McManmon |
| Schmidt | L.G. | Smith |
| Daly | Center | Boeringer |
| Hammack | R.G. | Leppig |
| Saunders | R.T. | Miller |
| Harbold | R.E. | Maxwell or Wallace |
| Harding | Q.B | Edwards |
| Cagle | L.H | Flanagan |
| Wilson | R.H. | Hearnden |
| Murrell | F.B. | Roach |

Big Ten Records Broken As 90,000 Watch State-Michigan

Conference Records Of Two Teams Clean; Noted Stars In Tilt

Michigan, Although Not in Best of Condition Yost Claims, Confident in Strength of Its Super-backfield; Karow and Hess Rank as Aces of Buckeye Eleven.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13.—All Big Ten conference attendance records were slated to go by the boards here this afternoon when 90,000 rabid, wild-eyed football partizans cram their way into Ohio stadium to see the Buckeye eleven clash with "Hurry Up" Yost's Michigan gridders in a decisive conference battle. Neither team has been defeated, and upon the outcome of today's game depends the title hopes of both squads.

The Michigan gridders, although claimed by Yost not to be in the best of condition, were confident that the strength of their super-backfield, headed by Bennie Friedman, Cleveland youth, would offset any superiority in Ohio's line. Marty Karow and Hess, All-American guard, were the aces of the Ohio eleven.

Columbus today was surrendered without reservation to the hosts of enthusiasts who poured in from every quarter of the compass by auto, train and afoot. The town was literally football crazy, and no other topic was discussed, as thousands milled about seeking tickets which have not been available for two weeks:

The probable lineup:

| OHIO | | MICHIGAN |
|---|---|---|
| Bell | L. E. | Oosterbaan |
| Raskowski | L. T. | Baer |
| Meyer | L. G. | Dewey |

Field Goal May Win Grid Tilt Between Penn and Columbia

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—Although Penn's attack has failed to score a touchdown in the last two games, while Columbia showed a real winning punch against Cornell, the Quakers nevertheless, are favored to defeat the Lions at Franklin Field this afternoon. While the Red and Blue failed to produce scoring power against Illinois and Penn State, it presented a defense ranking with the best, yielding only one field goal.

The defenses of both Columbia and Penn have shown up so well so far that in the opinion of many, a field goal may settle the issue. In Paul Scull, a sophomore, the Red and Blue has one of the finest drop kickers seen here in years. For Columbia, Captain Bill Madden will do the field goal booting, inasmuch as he is an unusually dependable placement kicker.

Penn is regarded as slightly superior to Columbia on the line to the extent that the Red and Blue has shown a better offensive charge. In weight the two forward walls are evenly matched, both teams tipping the beam at 184 pounds.

Sets New Record In Balkline Play

Roger Conti above, young French billiardist, has just set a new world's record for the 18.2 balkline game by making a run of 732 in a match against Louis Cure at the Olympia club in Paris. Edouard Horemans held the previous record of 701.

The schedule will be played in halves, with the first and second half season winners meeting for season's championship.

The schedule for the first quarter of the campaign follows. This card will be repeated three times to bring the season up to the full 20 weeks.

THINK CORNELL IS 'DUE' TODAY

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Although Dartmouth was favored to defeat Cornell in their annual gridiron classic here today, the big red eleven took the field today condifent of victory. Cornell rooters believed the team was due to "find itself."

Coach Dobie, usually pessimistic, declared that the Ithacans would put up a hard fight. He conceded the superior strength of Dartmouth in backfield play and forward passing, however.

SEEKS CHANGE IN BANKING LAWS

H. A. Abbott, state commissioner of banking, is understood to favor the enactment of a law which would authorize his department to act as receiver for defunct state banks instead of having a receiver appointed. He probably will press the matter upon the next legislature.

It is argued that by making the state commission the receiver, much money would be saved to the bank and it would also speed up the adjustment of the bank's affairs.

Mr. Abbott's plan, it is said, would include the services of an attorney regularly employed by the department, whose duty would be to take care of all legal matters connected with bank receiverships. In this way a still greater savings to the bank would be affected.

Hunting Licenses Increase.

Large increase has been reported in the number of hunting licenses issued this fall throughout the state by the clerks of the various county courts. Deputy state game wardens have been assigned to duty in counties where the majority of hunters are wont to travel.

Jury Trials Monday.

Jury trials will begin Monday in circuit court at New Cumberland. Majority of cases listed deal with alleged violation of the prohibition laws. Judge J. Harold Brennan will preside.

SEEKS CHANGE IN BANKING LAWS

H. A. Abbott, state commissioner of banking, is understood to favor the enactment of a law which would authorize his department to act as receiver for defunct state banks instead of having a receiver appointed. He probably will press the matter upon the next legislature.

It is argued that by making the state commission the receiver, much money would be saved to the bank and it would also speed up the adjustment of the bank's affairs.

Mr. Abbott's plan, it is said, would include the services of an attorney regularly employed by the department, whose duty would be to take care of all legal matters connected with bank receiverships. In this way a still greater savings to the bank would be affected.

Hunting Licenses Increase.

Large increase has been reported in the number of hunting licenses issued this fall throughout the state by the clerks of the various county courts. Deputy state game wardens have been assigned to duty in counties where the majority of hunters are wont to travel.

Soon Forgotten, Start Again.
678,000 To Feed.
Royalty Is In the Blood.
Meeting the Dominions.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Copyright, 1926, by the Star Co.

EIGHT years ago Thursday, it ended.

It is hard for the man of 30 to realize that the big war is not even a reality to the man of 22; hard for the man of 50 to realize that big war veterans think of the Spanish war as a distant memory, hard for the old man to realize the Civil war is ancient history, except to a little fringe near the grave's edge.

We soon forget wars, and so we start new ones.

THE French army, "much reduced for economy sake," will number this year 678,000 men and 157,300 horses.

Germany, not allowed to keep a huge, standing army, has her 678,000 men and 157,300 horses working for a living, building up Germany's new prosperity.

French taxpayers, clothing and feeding the huge standing army, wonder why prosperity returns so slowly.

THE French army is more than 000,000 greater than ours. At $5 a day, a fair average now, our 600,000 men are earning $900,000 a year. The government and taxpayers are saving nine hundred million other dollars, and more, than it would cost to feed, dress and arm such as standing army.

We are fortunate, so is Germany.

THE Swedish princess marries the Belgian prince, many women and children are injured in the crush.

Men have their revolutions, curtail the monarch's power, sometimes chop off his head.

But the infatuation for "royalty," voluntary self-abasement before it, remains in the blood.

You see it at the royal marriage in Brussels, and along the railroad track on Queen Marie's American tour.

IT IS a deep emotion, in human and animal nature. Insects have it. Ship by express a queen and some worker bees with food insufficient for the journey. Opening the package you find the queen fat, well cared for by the workers starving themselves to let the queen eat. It's part of nature's wisdom. Leaders were necessary and their care was important. The necessity has passed but the habit remains.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE does not approve the suggestion that our senate committee on foreign affairs meet at Ottawa the council of British premiers to discuss matters interesting both countries.

The President's right. This country should attend to its own business, here in the United States, and announce its decisions from here.

BUT it would be better to meet on North America soil, the premiers of

Reduces Housework 25 Per Cent

This is the end accomplished when a study is made of the average household, and it is rearranged from the standpoint of convenience and efficiency.

Did you ever stop to think how much time on her feet, how many miles of walking, would be saved the housewife if the kitchen cabinet were arranged for her with every article she needs in its place, and a comfortable stool drawn up in front?

We offer a booklet issued by the department of Agriculture which tells what kind of cabinet to buy —or how to make one cheaply.

It also gives directions for making a fireless cooker, a drainer that does away with drying dishes a serving tray, an iceless refrigerator, and a folding ironing board.

Add these conveniences to your home. Send for this booklet today. Enclose four cents in stamps for return postage and handling.

APPELLATE COURT WILL HAND DOWN DECISION IN FULTZ CASE ON DEC. 6

City's Appeal From Lower Tribunal Will be Acted Upon at Session in St. Clairsville.

ANDERSON PLEA ALSO HELD UP

East Liverpool's Petition in Error in Second Presbyterian Church Suit Dismissed.

Decision in the appeal of the city of Wellsville, against Chief of Police John H. Fultz, who was dismissed by Mayor W. L. Fogo and later reinstated by Common Pleas Judge W. H. Spence, will be handed down by the court of appeals at the Belmont county session in St. Clairsville during the week of December 6, it was announced today.

Ruling on the application for a third trial for George A. Anderson, East Liverpool, twice convicted of manslaughter in the death of Frank McLain, taxi driver, was deferred until Nov. 29.

Nineteen Cases Argued.

The case was argued at Lisbon this week, but a ruling was reserved in order to give the court an opportunity to consider the evidence.

Nineteen cases were argued, decisions being handed down in 15, deferred in two and continued in two others.

Motion to dismiss the appeal of the city of East Liverpool in a judgement returned by the common pleas court in favor of C. A. Goodballet and others, representatives of the Second Presbyterian church, was sustained because the petition in error was not filed within the 70-day limit provided by law. The judgment was for damage alleged to have been done the church property when a run, crossing Virginia avenue, overflowed during a storm on June 28, 1924. The water flooded the basement of the church.

Other decisions by the court were:

Charity A. Burnett and others against the city of Wellsville; appeal dismissed.

James C. Azdell, plaintiff in error, against J. C. Swickard, judgment of the lower court affirmed.

Thomas Cadwallader and others against C. V. Rakestraw, judgment reversed.

Belle Burkhart against Samuel Patrilla, judgment for plaintiff and mo-

ANNEXATION VERDICT MAY BE ANNOUNCED WITHIN WEEK

Final Arguments Will be Heard Monday at Lisbon.

BOTH SIDES REST

Commissioners Will Consider Testimony Submitted.

Testimony in the application of the city of East Liverpool for permission to extend its corporate limits to include La Croft, Fisher Park, Sherwood, Maplewood, Park Boulevard, Beechwood and other suburban zones north of the present city line, was completed before the county commissioners, sitting as judges and jurors, in municipal court headquarters last night.

The commissioners will hear closing arguments at Lisbon at 10 o'clock Monday morning, then take the case under consideration. Decision probably will be handed down within a week.

The city rested its case shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The last opposition witness left the stand at 5:30 o'clock when the hearing was adjourned until Monday.

Solicitor Frank Hoover and Attorney Jason H. Brookes will present pro arguments, while Attorneys Harry Brokaw and Charles Boyd will oppose the proposal.

City Officials on Stand.

Roy Shingleton, St. Clair avenue contractor, was the first witness called by the city when the hearing reconvened yesterday. Shingleton said that he favored annexation because of the advantages offered.

Frank Robinson, water works clerk, testified that approximately 200 consumers of city water were being served outside the city limits at present.

C. H. Hoopes, Donora, Pa., one of the owners of the Fisher Park development, Lincoln highway, also urged annexation.

City Auditor William McGraw testified concerning the city tax rate, bonded indebtedness and other financial matters. McGraw said that the bonded indebtedness of the city at the present time, excluding the $445,000 municipal filtration plant, was approximately $205,000.

Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore also discussed financial matters pertaining to the city, citing figures concerning the municipal debt. He said the proposed new territory consisted of about 446 houses and a population of about 2,000 persons. He said that it was the intentions of the city to extend the water mains if the annexation move were approved.

SLAIN RECTOR'S DIARY IS ALSO ADMITTED IN MURDER TRIAL

Choir Singer's Scarf, Too, Entered as Evidence.

DEFENSE LOSES

Competent From Standpoint of Motive, Court Rules.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

COURT HOUSE, SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 13.—The Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall's diary and several love letters in which he told of his great love for Mrs. Eleanor Mills, his choir singer, were admitted as evidence in the Hall-Mills murder trial today over vigorous objection of the defense counsel.

Defense Objects.

Mrs. Mills' scarf was also entered as evidence. The scarf, the diary and the letters were found in the Mills home several weeks after Rev. Hall and Mrs. Mills were shot to death in De Russey's lane four years ago.

The defense objected to their introduction on the ground that they were not found at the scene of the crime.

The diary is a little brown note book. The letters were scrawled on many loose pages, all of which were entered as evidence.

Judge Charles W. Parker ruled that the jury should be given an opportunity to see the letters and the diary. He thought it was "competent" evidence. The letters showed "motive" and were competent on that point, he ruled.

Most of Spectators are Women.

Judge Charles W. Parker admitted the diary and letters as evidence.

"The view of the court is that they are competent from the standpoint of motive," said Judge Parker. "We believe too, that they are relevant and should be seen by the jury."

There were a few vacant seats in the courtroom this morning for the first time.

Most of the spectators were women. Mrs. James B. Duke, widow of the late tobacco king, and her daughter wered riven over from their home in Raritan, a mile from Somerset, and found seats in the first row behind the press seats. It was Mrs. Duke's first appearance at the trial.

Mrs. Hall, attired in black, sat between Willie and Henry Stevens, watching the proceedings in a detached manner.

15 Love Letters Admitted.

The whole series of 15 love letters was admitted over the repeated objections of the defense. They were duly marked as exhibits.

When Attorney McCarter declared, "why we haven't even seen these letter," the court ordered that the letters be taken into an adjoining room by a court stenographer and examined by one of the defense lawyers. Prosecutor Simpson sent one of his representatives to watch this proceeding.

"Submarine Booze Ship" Captured in Lake Champlain

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Nov. 13.—A "submarine booze ship" loaded with 4,000 bottles of Canadian ale has been captured by the Canadian Royal Mounted police for American authorities off Fort Montgomery, N. Y., in Lake Champlain.

Mrs. Mary Browning, Aged 65, Dies in Grant Street Home

Mrs. Mary Browning, 65, wife of James H. Browning, died today in her home, 421 Grant street, after six months' illness.

COUNTY AUDITOR TELLS SCHOOL BOARD HERE TO KEEP WITHIN BUDGET

Law Interpreted, and Warning Given That Personal Liability Will Ensue if Expenditures Exceed Appropriations.

Members of the East Liverpool board of education were told that they must keep within their budget at a harmonious conference with County Auditor Elmer E. Walker at Lisbon last night.

The conference, arranged at the request of the school board, was called for a discussion of the 2.3 mill levy approved by the electors on Nov. 2, according to school officials. The meeting was attended by Members D. F. White, F. T. Weaver, C. A. Ferguson and R. B. Stevenson, Superintendent C. S. McVay and E. J. Gaston, clerk-treasurer of the board.

Auditor Walker suggested that the board keep in close touch with his office in order that expenditures might be kept within the budget. He warned members of the board that they would be held personally liable for any expenditures outside appropriations, and suggested a "pay-as-you-go" policy in the school's business. There is no means of liquidating any deficiency at the end of the fiscal year, Walker told the board.

The auditor was questioned concerning the distribution of delinquent taxes. The board was advised that all delinquent taxes are returned to the district from which they are collected.

While the tax rate for the school district has not been fixed indications are that it will be 10.93 mills for next year. The rate for the present year was 9.15 mills.

PRESIDENT BACK IN WHITE HOUSE AFTER TRIP TO KANSAS CITY

Officialdom Fixes Eyes on Europe to Observe Effect of Speech on World Court Reservations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—President Coolidge was back in the White House today well pleased with his Kansas City visit, during which he announced that Europe could accept America in the world court on its own terms or not at all.

Officialdom, meanwhile, has its eyes fixed on Europe to observe what effect, if any, the president's blunt speech will have toward spurring the major powers to definite action on the world court reservations.

A checkup today revealed that not a single major world power has acceded to the senate's reservations. Only five small nations, some hardly big enough to make a fair-sized county in Texas, have sent formal notes of acceptance.

All of these five acted before the Geneva conference in September when the nations participating therein signed an agreement to propose counter reservations. Four of these five attended that conference and three of the four signed the new agreement.

Juvenile Bible Study

One question for each day is provided. The parent will find it interesting and helpful to have the child take up the question each day and aid it in finding the answer in the Scriptures, thus developing a knowledge of the Bible and where to find in it the things decided. Send or bring the little folks to the class Sunday at 1:45 p. m. The "Ceramic Cafeteria Auditorium," 121 West Fifth Street.

479. What two thoughts are understood by the word judgment?

Answer: First, a trial given for some purpose; and, second, a sentence pronounced according to the outcome of the trial.

480. What was the first judgment day?

Answer: The time when Adam was on trial for life in the Garden of Eden, the whole unborn race being in him.

481. What was the outcome of that trial?

Answer: Disobedience to the command of God, and therefore unworthiness for everlasting life.

482. What was the sentence pronounced for the failure in this trial for everlasting life?

Answer: "Thou shalt surely (really) die."—Genesis 2:17.

483. Does the Bible say that all are counted as sinners on account of Adam's sin and for that reason are unworthy of everlasting life?

Answer: Yes, it says: "By one man (Adam) sin entered into the world and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned."—Romans 5:12.

484. As the result of that trial, has the sentence of death been carried out against the human race?

Answer: Yes. A great many people are dying every day, and every ache or pain is death working in the human race.

485. How did God arrange it so that each one of the human race might have a chance individually to prove whether he is worthy of everlasting life?

Answer: "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."—John 3:16.

Low first cost is only part of your saving on an Overland Whippet.

Its outstanding economy of 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline . . . well over 1,000 miles on a gallon of oil . . . with the smallest tax rating of any car in America today cuts present operating costs just about in half. And doubles the value of every dollar you now spend for upkeep.

In a recent economy driving test in Chicago 1308 contestants averaged 31.8 miles per gallon . . . the winner averaged 47.2 miles per gallon. And scores of Whippets were sold as the result of this demonstration.

Good Health Requires Good Elimination.

THE kidneys filter the blood. They are constantly ridding the body of poisons. One should realize, then, how much good health depends upon good elimination. When toxic poisons are permitted to accumulate, there's apt to follow a tired, achy feeling and, often, a dull backache, with toxic headaches and dizziness. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is sometimes shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Many people have learned to assist their kidneys by drinking plenty of pure water and the occasional use of a stimulant diuretic. A Sale and Exhibit of New and Beautiful Pictures for your home. Featuring the new process which imparts all of the beauty and texture of the original oil painting.

Reproductions of famous masterpieces take on new beauties of depth and coloring that have heretofore been lacking in flat finished pictures.

This extraordinary process will give you a keener appreciation of the Old Masters, for the dull, lifeless reproductions of former days have failed to bring out the latent richness of the colorings of the originals.

Have your pictures kept pace with the rest of your furnishings? But you'll be pleasantly surprised to note how smilingly your walls will respond to fair treatment. A handsome picture framed the modern way deserves the space now occupied by some faded heirloom.

These pictures are ideal for bed-rooms, dining rooms, halls and living rooms, for they are reproductions of Old Masters and floral studies.

On sale now in our Art Department, second floor. Priced at $1.00.

CHANGE SOUGHT IN SCHOOL LAW

State Department Plans Revision of Entire Fiscal System.

"Back to the constitution" is the slogan of the state department of education in its campaign to have the legislature enact laws which will require that the state itself stand for at least one-third of the money spent on public schools in the state.

The constitution provides that the state shall bear the expense of the schools and article 12, section five, which carried the provision, is being pointed out as the basis for the campaign to revise the school fiscal system.

The plan, however, has nothing to do with the suggested "county unit" except so far as the costs are concerned. At present the state's total school bill is around $27,000,000 and to this the department of education contributes about $2,000,000 annually, this sum coming from the earnings of the permanent $1,000,000 school fund investment required by law, forfeitures, fines and capitation taxes.

In order for the state to bear one-third of the support cost, it would have to contribute $9,000,000 as state aid instead of $2,000,000 as at the present. To obtain the $9,000,000 a revision of taxation would be necessary and the plan to do this would call for additional indirect taxation by the state and would work to reduce local tax rates.

An appeal has been made by the department of education to the legislative tax commission to incorporate in its recommendations to the next legislature, some plan which would operate to bring in the $9,000,000 for state aid to schools. In order to do this, it has been suggested that the commission recommend taxes on luxuries as is done in other states.

LABOR SITUATION GOOD IN STATE

There is very little unemployment in the state at this time, according to C. M. O'Neill, examiner in charge of the U. S. employment service at Charleston who has just completed his October report. The demand for miners continued throughout the month the report says.

Mr. O'Neill's report in part follows:

Employment conditions were exceptionally good during the month, there being very little unemployment in the state. There is a shortage of mine labor in the state and from the reports I have been receiving from other states there is not much likelihood of us getting any great number of miners from outside the state. The recent advance in the wage scale granted by the coal operators will be a great drawing card for the mines. Miners engaged in other occupations will go back to the mines as the present wage scale for mine work is much higher than the scale in other industries. A great number of our coal miners have left the state during the last ten months riding free transportation to certain sections of Pennsylvania where it was difficult to keep miners on account of conditions.

It will be used exclusively in the mining operations.

The craft, twin screw type, is equipped with the 80-horsepower Diesel oil burning engines and is capable of making a speed of 12 miles per hour. It is 82 feet in length, 18 feet in width and about seven feet deep. It has but one deck.

Fuel capacity of the craft is 1,800 gallons. It will average about one mile to each gallon of oil. Its sides are of three-sixteenths inch steel, the hull being galvanized to prevent rust.

The cargo includes steel products, coke and provisions. It will travel down the Ohio to the Mississippi river and thence to New Orleans. From New Orleans it will go to Key West, thence to Havana, to Jamaica and through the Panama Canal to Colombia, located on the west coast of South America. The boat draws approximately four feet of water with its present cargo.

The boat has been named "Betty," the name being selected by its owners. Its crew numbers seven men—captain, pilot, engineer, assistant engineer, cook and two deck hands.

One power plant owned by Liverpool is to have a capacity of 200,000 kilowatts.

QUEEN MARIE PREPARES FOR CHICAGO FETE

Roumanian Royalty Awaits High Point of Trip.

SHE'S GODMOTHER

Princess and Prince Attend County Club Dance.

BY DAVIS P. SENTNER.

ABOARD QUEEN MARIE'S SPECIAL TRAIN (enroute to Chicago) Nov. 13.—It was "rest day" for Queen Marie of Roumania today. Garnering her strength for the four-day fete in Chicago, the high point in her transcontinental trip, her majesty arose late and left the comfort of her cushions only at Springfield, Ill., where she paid her respects to the tomb of Abraham Lincoln and decorated the memorial with a wreath.

The special is due in the Windy City at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. The queen, Pincess Ileana and Prince Nicolas spent a great part of the day talking over the cordial yet dignified reception accorded them in St. Louis.

Her majesty seemed proud of the fact she had acted as gomother for Marie Weber, of Smackover, Ark., two-year old child, whose mother is of Roumanian descent. When little Marie was christened in the Washington University chapel, queen Marie begged her godchild for a kiss.

"If you won't kiss me I'll kiss you anyway," her majesty declared.

The princess and prince cheated the routine program in St. Louis by stealing away for an informal dance at a country club. The princess danced with whomever asked her. The prince, who dances as skillfully as any American "sheik" sat out a number of dances with pretty girls.

The proposed southern trip of the royal party was "up in the air" pending satisfactory arrangements with the railroads, it was learned today. However, when the Royal Roumanian flyer returns to Washington on Nov. 24, the queen will visit Atlantic city while her children are viewing the Army-Navy football game in Chicago. If the southern itinerary goes through the royal children will meet their mother in White Sulphur Springs, Va.

Hall-Mills Murder Mystery Is Stranger Than Fiction

De Russey's Lane Crime is More Baffling Than Any Detective Story.

By James L. Gilgallen.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 13.—Stranger than fiction, more baffling in all its varied aspects than any detective story, is the real life murder mystery that is being unfolded, bit by bit, at the Hall-Mills trial. Today, the ninth day of the trial, the most deductive and penetrating minds were completely at a loss for the answer to the national riddle: "Who killed the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, and why?"

The state, in its case against the three on trial—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall and her brothers, Willie and Henry Stevens—has been bringing forward witness after witness.

Highlights of Testimony.

The highlights of their testimony are:

Mrs. Hall was not at home at 10 o'clock the night of the murder, Sept. 14, 1922, at least her maid, Barbara Tough, didn't see her in the house when she returned at that hour. The time of the murder has been fixed at 10:20 p. m. The same maid heard Mrs. Hall enter the bathroom at 2 a. m. that fatal night.

Another maid in the Hall house, Louise Geist Riehl, testified that Mrs. Hall was home between 9:30 to 10 on the fatal night—that she was playing solitaire.

This witness also swore that early in the evening of the night of the murder Mrs. Mills called the minister on the telephone. The maid, on the second floor at the time, answered the phone. She looked over the banister to the floor below and saw Mrs. Hall with the extension telephone in her hand.

Mrs. Hall, it is understood, denies ever having been jealous of Mrs. Mills but admits having been out at 2 a. m. Having gone to the pastor's church in search of him when he failed to return home.

Willie Stevens' Role.

Now for Willie Stevens.

Are the fingerprints on "exhibit S17," Rev. Hall's professional card which was found near the bodies, those of Willie Stevens? Two noted fingerprint experts haxe testified yes. Was Willie out of the Hall home on the evening of the murder when he says he was at home? Mr. and Mrs. Dickson of North Plainfield testified Willie, "greatly agitated," was wandering on the night of the crime and called at their home about 8:30 p. m., inquiring his way to the Parker House, which is near the scene of the crime.

Willie has been quoted as saying he was in bed at 9 p. m. The maid, Barbara Tough, didn't see him at 10 p. m. when she came home that night. Also Mrs. Riehl, the other maid, testified that on the morning after the murders, Willie told her "something terrible happened last night. I'd rather not tell you. Don't tell Frances (Mrs Hall) I told you."

Henry Is "Crack Shot.

And as to Henry Stevens, the "crack shot:"

Ralph V. Gorsline, vestryman of the slain rector's church, was identified by William Garvin, formerly New York manager of the Burns Detective agency, as having accused Henry Stevens of firing two shots at him in De Russey's lane on the night of the murder, saying: "Get the hell out of here—this is none of your affair." Garvin said Gorsline came to him "conscience stricken" and told the story.

Also Mrs. Marie Demarest said she saw Henry Stevens in New Brunswick the day after the murder. He has claimed he was in Lavalette, N. J., on that particular date.

Proposed Election Code Changes

A special committee of ten members—three from the state senate, three from the lower house, Secretary of State Thad H. Brown and three others named by the latter officer—has recommended 22 changes in the Ohio election code, according to announcement by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley, executive secretary.

At least three of the proposals—elimination of the names of presidential electors, combining of national, state, district and county tickets on one ballot and changing the time of the state primaries from August to May—should meet with approval.

With the thought of economy, the committee has urged that all special propositions should be given places on the ballot containing the national, state, district and county tickets. In the event more than one special issue were submitted, the idea would not be looked upon with favor, for it would mean a ballot too long for convenience, not to mention the time required in counting precinct returns.

The plan of holding state primaries in May instead of August is a good one, for, as the committee suggests, this would permit preference for White House candidates and selection of state ticket nominees on the same day during presidential election years.

The committee also suggests that absentee electors certify absence from the county rather than the precinct. If adopted, this plan would disfranchise an elector who, although, absent from his home city, was employed or visiting in another subdivision of the county. Under the present law, he has the right to vote.

And, too, it would be unwise to reduce the number of election officers in a precinct which at any one elections casts 150 or less votes. The committee recommends that two judges and two clerks instead of six officers should handle the balloting in small sub-divisions. However, sight is lost of the fact that some of the largest precincts, especially in Columbiana county, cast light votes not frequently. And the four-man precinct board would face a hard job at any time the full strength poll resulted.

The committee's tentative draft of proposals fails to take into consideration the question of registration for cities such as East Liverpool, where, exclusive of rentals, it costs $168 a day for enrollment of voters. Under the present law, four days of registration must be designated prior to general elections, while at least two are set aside for pre-primary enrollment. The consensus of opinion of election officers in small cities is that other than presidential years, when general registration is the rule, one day is enough for enrollment as well as the issuance of transfers to electors who have changed their places of residence. Of course, other provisions would be necessary in larger centers.

The committee's action should prompt a general study of the situation on the part of the state legislators, and it is not improbable that it will mean a revision of the election laws to the end that soaring costs of balloting shall be reduced without impairment of the present plan of tabulating returns.

Congress This Winter

What will congress do when it convenes in December?

Old-timers, as they look over the situation, suggest that congress will not do much of anything between Dec. 6 and March 4—except talk. For various reasons, action will be difficult.

The senate will probably talk at length about the world court, but do nothing to change the status of this country's qualified application for membership, which the other members are disinclined to accept.

There will be a great deal of excited debate in both houses about what to do about income taxes and the treasury surplus, and possibly some sort of legislation on that point.

The diversion of water from the Great Lakes by Chicago, for drainage and navigation, will come up for discussion, and probably bring on a bitter wrangle between the two groups of lawmakers representing the Great Lakes and the Mississippi valley. That issue, however, may be settled by the supreme court during the winter, and thus taken out of the hands of congress.

There will be a fight to reduce the army and navy expenditures and personnel which may or may not succeed.

Farm relief will enlist attention, as usual, and what will be done about it, if anything, is anybody's guess.

The status of Muscle Shoals will be considered, with a view to final action, and with some insistence on government operation under the war department, which has made a good record with the Shoals plant this year.

For the most part, congress in this session may be regarded as less a legislative body than a reflection of the national state of mind. If no definite action is taken about important matters, it will be largely because the public lacks clear ideas and purposes about national issues.

WHAT'S NEWS IN WISCONSIN

This one has at least one merit. It really happened.

After several years spent in short story writing, a Milwaukee man buckled to and turned out a manuscript of novel length. He sent it off and the first editor to read it promptly accepted it by wire. When the proud and happy author reached home that evening carrying his treasured telegram in his hand, his little daughter met him at the front door.

"Honey," he said, "I've got some great news."

Oh, daddy!" she exclaimed. "What is it?"

Well," he said, prolonging the pleasant suspense. "I'll let you guess. Now think—what is the most important and the most exciting thing that could have happened today in the state of Wisconsin?"

"Oh, I know," she answered. "Senator La Follette has been run over by an automobile!"

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Harry Thaw has against become a conspicuous night life figure. He is vastly different from the high-strung young millionaire who came out of Pittsburgh 30 years ago to cut a swath along the path of the gleaners and wastrels.

The years have given him a certain complacency. The snows of many winters have thatched his hair with gray. His figure is portly and his manner subdued, but time has failed to erase certain mannerisms that mark him wherever he goes.

He has the same "starey" eyes, weak mouth and slight incoherency of speech when excited. He is frequently seen in this supper club and that, slipping in quietly to an obscure table and to all appearances alone but his bodyguard is always nearby.

Almost instantly he becomes the focal point of attention and the topic of subdued gossip. Cabaret girls spot him and usually toss him hurrying smiles for there are many stories of his generosity in passing out gold bank notes to performers.

In many ways he seems more the tired old man seeking light to banish torturous shadows than the gay boulevardier in quest of adventure. Once in a while he is recognized and invited to join revelers who see to it he gets the check.

And there are other times when he faces public snubs. Once, recently, he was invited to join a table at which sat a well known theatrical producer. When he sat down, the producer exploded: "Get away from me, I was at Madison Square Garden that night and saw you do it."

Thaw glared, his jaw muscles twiched and muttering something unintelligie he moved to another table. So, after a fashion, he becomes a rather pathetic figure for whether he realizes it or not to the world he bears the invisible mark of Cain.

One of the startling New York divorces is said to have resulted from a perfectly natural slip of an hotel auditor. A certain New Yorker bade his wife good-bye for an ostensible trip into the Maine wilderness where he would be out of touch by wire or telephone. Five days later came an envelope from a hotel in the middle west. The auditor explained there had been a slight overpayment during Mr. and Mrs. Blank's visit and enclosed a check. The wife opened the envelope, boarded the next train for that city—and the divorce resulted.

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The Cotton Problem—III.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—Emergency relief in the cotton crisis has been effected, as has been explained. President Coolidge's commission, headed by Eugene Meyer, jr., and including Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, and Secretary of Commerce Hoover, has cooperated with state and local bankers and organizations of the South to finance the carrying over of the surplus crop for from eighteen months to two years. Cotton growers are being brought into an agreement to curtail their acreage next year by at least 25 per cent.

Experts agree, however, that much more must be done to work out anything approaching a final solution of the cotton problem. First aid to anybody injured is recognized as necessary and important, but it is rare that anyone seriously injured is permanently relieved or cured by first aid treatment. The victim usually needs hospital treatment. Admittedly the cotton grower is a hospital case. Probably he will find the cotton manufacturer on the next cot or in the adjoining room. Both are suffering primarily from the same complaint—too much cotton—with incidental complications.

The best informed diagnosticians available in Washington say that there are three things to be done to put both patients on their feet again.

First of all, they say, the cotton grower must gain confidence in his crop. He must get away from the idea that when he produces one of the world's greatest staples he is engaged in a highly hazardous or speculative enterprise. It is hazardous only to the degree that weather conditions, the boll weevil, and other untoward circumstances may make it so. It is speculative only to the extent that gamblers will prey upon either his adversity or his prosperity and to the degree to which he will permit himself to fall for their machinations.

The cotton grower must ground himself in the belief that in producing a world necessity he is rendering a world service, and therefore has a commodity that is worth more than the cost of production. He must realize the intrinsic value of his crop and no more think of selling it for less than its value than he would if it were so much gold. His banker will help him in this, if he will follow his banker's advice. In truth, if he has planted wisely and not too much, and cultivated well, and believes in his crop, he may find that he can increase materially his banker's confidence in it.

All of which means that the cotton grower should never permit himself to be frightened, cajoled, or coerced into borrowing upon his crop at whatever terms are laid down or into selling it at any price offered, if it be possible for him to stand up on his two legs and fight for what he knows his cotton is worth.

Next, The Manufacturer.

The other party to the cotton industry—the manufacturer, or spinner—next is told what his dose is to be. All done up in a capsule it is merely that he must stop trying to buy cheap cotton, or being afraid to buy cotton at a fair price because of the possibility that he might be able to get it a bit cheaper a little later on. If he gets that dose down and keeps it down he is told that his greatest contribution to the cotton industry in the present situation would be to begin buying cotton for his future needs, two or three years ahead, and to buy until it hurts.

He can rest assured, the experts say, that he will realize a profit on prices, because these prices are below any and all cotton he buys at present the cost of production and the growers can not, even if they would, continue to produce a crop and sell it at less than cost. The price might go lower, under extraordinary conditions such as have been breated by the bumper crop of this year, but that is doubtful, and whether or no, it is written down as a certainty that prices will be higher next year and the year after. Accordingly, the wise manufacturer will jump into the market right now and buy his cotton for next year and the year after at spot prices. Reports to two government departments show that there are many wise manufacturers who have been doing exactly that thing during the past week or ten days.

And why should the spinner try to buy cheap cotton? It has already been pointed out that the biggest market for domestic manufactures of cotton is in the South, and that if the South is going bankrupt raising cotton it can not possibly buy cotton products. But, here are government figures for the manufacturer to ponder: Between cotton at 25 cents, which is a cracking good price, and at 10 cents, which is an impossibly low price, the difference in the cost of a dress-length of gingham is only 6 cents. Shoppers might bear that in mind, too, when the retailer tells them the price of cotton has gone up!

Now for Cooperation.

The final part of the prescription is that the cotton grower and the cotton spinner, or manufacturer, must get together.

For so many years that the memory of man runs not to contrary the cotton grower has been possessed if not obsessed with the idea that the cotton spinner or manufacturer is his economic enemy. He has believed that the man who buys his raw cotton and transforms it into marketable wares is always trying to beat down the price of his cotton. He has felt that he is always in the position of having some thing that he must sell in a buyer's market, which is recognized in the marts of trade as a decidedly adverse market for a seller. He has suffered adversity which he has attributed largely to the rapacity of the buyers of his product.

On the other hand, while the manufacturers have never had any grounds for complaint that they were being held up in the matter of prices by the cotton growers, by reason of the intense competition among themselves they have fallen into the idea that they must buy their raw material at the cheapest possible price. And they have acted accordingly.

Now, say the doctors, if the cotton industry with all its ramifications is to get well and enjoy good health, the cotton growers and manufacturers must come to a realization that their interests are not kind of cooperation between them, it is said, revolutionary changes in the industry may be expected.

They must effect organizations that will undertake both scientific and commercial research—the first to develop new industrial uses for cotton, and the second to ferret out new markets for cotton products. In this work, it is promised, the Government will lend every possible assistance.

To revert to one of the fundamentals of the cotton planter—it isn't so important that his wife and daughter and all other wives and daughters forswear silk and clothe themselves in more democratic habiliments as it is that he cease raising more cotton than the world needs.

What else can he raise? Well, W. R. King, president of one of the biggest banks in Texas, says that last year his State spent $315,000,000 for crops for the growth of which Texas is peculiarly adapted, and that amount of money is just about what Texas expect to realize on its cotton crop of this year.

That seems to indicate that the South needs to learn more about diversification.

BOOK FIVE—XI.

"Listen," said Peg, and prodded his ribs with her elbow to be sure that she had his attention. "I'm going to tell you something which I haven't any business telling you and which I wouldn't tell you if I didn't feel sure you'd be—well, call it interested. I know all about Cecily's affairs. I know how she met you, and what happened, and everything about it. And listen: as long as you are alive, and single, she'll never marry Bill Burnholme or anybody else. There. Bite down hard on that one!"

"Did she say that?"

"Words to that effect. And if putting you wise was a bum hunch I hope somebody shoots me!"

Jock, his face radiant and his heart doing strange alarming things within him, wrung her hand wordlessly, in token that it was not.

"Axiom One for Young men," chanted Peg, "established by Jock Hamill of New York City, after intensive personal research work: 'The way to find your ideal girl is, bring her up yourself!'"

XII.

They came upon their destination unexpectedly, over the crest of a little hill. Below them lay a green incline bisected by the road; at the foot of the incline a great house of white clapboard, with spacious porches at its sides and front and green-and-white awnings astir at its windows; and, on beyond the house, the streching blue of water into sky. . . .

"Whew!" sighed Jock ecstatically.

"See that float anchored out a way?" Peg said. "Those little insects crawling around on it are the house-party. Part of it, anyway. The rest are probably on the dock—you can't see that from here, it's under the bluff.

"Jump into your suit quick, Jock," he concluded, as the car executed a sniveling stop beside the house, "and we'll get right down there."

Johnny conducted him upstairs into a huge bedroom boasting several cot beds and a tremendous litter of masculine effects. "This," explained Johnny, "is the bachelors' boudoir. All in here together, have more fun that way. Make it snappy now, will you Jock? We'll be ready in five minutes. Meet me downstairs."

Jock needed no exhortations to hurry. In several seconds less than five minutes he descended to the first floor again, and waited, full of a sense of expectancy so exquisite that it was scarcely to be endured. Johnny and Peg, descending a little after him, found him standing on the porch with his eyes toward the water, looking, as Peg whispered, "Like a statue of Adonis in tights."

She approached him and stood on tiptoe to lay a solicitous hand on his forehead. "Poor boy, how're you bearing up," she begged. "Why, he's feverish! He ought to be put to bed!"

But Jock was past the point where he could jest. "Come on," he said. "Let's move." And then, as Peg and Johnny laughed at him, "That ole sea's going to feel good!"

"Dissembling to the last," Peg murmured.

When they reached the dock, however, he dissembled no longer. He surveyed the wet welcoming faces that surrounded him, listened to the cacophony of delighted voices for an instant, and then said quite simply, "Where's my girl?"

Of course they twitted him a little, being modern young people; but they answered. And in obedience to their answers he directed his glance toward the float that was anchored off shore. There were two figures on it, one large and mannish ("That's Larry Vane," somebody volunteered) the other little and slender and somehow breath-taking. Cecily. With a scarlet suit. . . . As he looked she flung up an arm in recognition and greeting.

"See you later," said Jock, and dived, and swam, using a swift crawl stroke and making a great churn of foam.

Half way to the float he lifted his head and saw Larry Vane almost beside him, going the other way. Larry grinned at him, and panted, "I abdicate—by request—you lucky stiff!"

Cecily was alone on the float. He could see her sitting there, at the edge, hugging her bare white knees in the curve of her arms, resting her chin upon them, smiling at him . . just ahead of him. . . .

All the things in the world that he wanted were just ahead of him. . . .

He buried his face in the cool green, and swam faster.

THE END.

STRAND BOOKS "HOYT'S GANG"

Musical Comedy and Vaudeville on Next Week's Program.

"Hal Hoyt's Gang," a smart musical comedy-vaudeville show, featuring Gene "Honey-Gal" Cobb and Jack "Smoke" Gray, will be the attraction at the Strand theatre for the coming week. "Hal Hoyt's Gang" is a musical comedy and vaudeville show that is hard to surpass; its singing voices away above the average, its dancers snappy and offering a number of the newest dances from Broadway hits, and the genius of its dance staff and its costumes and stage sets are all new and beautiful.

Cobb is considered one of the finest "burn cork artists" in the country, while Gray, whom Hoyt was fortunate enough to sign for the season, is termed the "last word" in black face comedians.

All the bills to be presented have been especially built around Cobb and Gray, and are replete with wholesome fun, clean snappy musical numbers, the most interesting of vaudeville specialties, and a Charleston dancing chorus of beauty, youth and charm.

Beautiful scenic equipment and lavish wardrobe are carried.

In addition to the scintillating chorus of girls, the company presents Alma Arliss, Jack Childs, Hazel Cobb Jack Bell, Patricia Myers, Al Laffman, the Brooks sisters and others well known in musical comedy circles.

EXPERT GUNNERS GUARD MELLETT DEATH SUSPECT

MACHINE GUNS AT ENTRANCE OF WORKHOUSE

Plot Reported Hatched to "Get" Pat McDermott.

MURDER "KEY MAN"

Canton Authorities Increase Vigilance as Trial Date Nears.

CANTON, O., Nov. 13.—Two machine guns, manned by expert gunners, were guarding the entrances of the Stark county workhouse today, following the receipt of a tip from an "official source" that a plot has been hatched to "get" Pat McDermott, dead or alive.

The guard has been increased over the institution, where McDermott, alleged "key man" in the Don R. Mellett murder, who is to go on trial here December 6 on a charge of first degree murder, is locked up.

Supt. John Boyer of the workhouse has divided his men into three shifts, each 24 hours, instead of two and has increased the number of guards. Boyer has transformed the workhouse into a veritable arsenal to forestall any attempt to "get" Pat. He credits his informant, whose name he refused to divulge.

It was the same man, Boyer said, who, four years ago, told him of an impending attack on the workhouse, just before the famous battle when four desperate bank bandits were shot to death on a farm to the north of Canton after kidnaping Chief of Police John "Jiggs" Wise, then a sergeant in the department.

Tipped Off Plot Four Years Ago.

"Four years ago," Boyer said today, "this same man told us that an attempt was going to be made to get Norman Warden, held here under the name of 'Oklahoma Slim'. We redoubled our guard then and Tommy Saxton and his gang came and were killed in the ensuing gun fight.

"I always have believed that they came to get 'Oklahoma Slim' but that their plans went wrong when 'Jiggs' stopped them."

Boyer declared that he is prepared for any attack on the institution. A wholesale escape at the workhouse was frustrated several months ago by vigilance of Boyer's wife and since that time Boyer has had additional guards, whose number was even more increased today with the tip on the plot against Pat.

The warning is the second Boyer has received recently. A week ago he received an anonymous letter asserting that three gangs were planning an attack and warning him of a plan to kidnap Boyer and his children.

The machine guns are so placed that two men could hold off an army seeking to approach Pat's cell, Boyer said.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—Higher prices for a small number of the motor and oil stocks were recorded in the short session of the stock market today, the "market leaders" were evidently under the pressure of profit taking.

Little encouragement for the immediate fututre could be derived from the week-end business reports, which found cross currents of good and bad business throughout the country. Bulls in Wall street hung tenaciously to the prospect of a large holiday business, with the expectation of more than the seasonal advances in important lines.

Chrysler and Hudson rose to 37¼ to 49 respectively; Hudson scoring a gain of 3 points in a drive against the shorts. Detroit dispatches indicated that production of cars by these two manufacturers had been little affected by the curtailment noted in othe rmotor plants. The oils made a good showing in the first hour, under the lead of Phillips and Marland, though buying demand fell off while profit taking and short selling of the market leaders was in greatest volume.

On the whole, the stock offerings of the professionals were well absorbed, and the moderate declines of a point or two in the active stocks was without particular effect on the balance of the list. The rails were quiet rather than eractionary and the investment stocks in this group commanded a good range of prices.

DR. MEL MORRIS MAY CLOSE HIS MEET SUNDAY

Two Services Tomorrow in First Baptist Church.

PRAYER TONIGHT

"We Must Decide for or Against Christ," Evangelist Warns.

"We are all Pilates in the sense that we must ultimately reply to query 'what shall I do with Jesus which is called Christ?'" asserted Rev. Mel Morris in a striking discourse at the First Baptist church revival on Fifth street last evening. "It is ours to crucify Him anew by preferring Barabbas or the world to Him. But sometime, somewhere a crisis in our lives will cause us to decide for or against Him."

That there can be no neutral ground in such a decision was pointed out by the evangelist as well as the fact that the responsibility of an answer can not be made by any person other than those to whom the query comes.

"You, wife, husband, brother, sister, children or friends can not take your place in making answer to this, the most important question, that you will face in this life," he said." "And your manner of answering will likewise spell your destiny in eternity and affect profoundly your existence in the life that now is yours."

Deep conviction settled upon the large audience in attendance during and following the preaching of the sermon. As a result the largest number that has yet gone forward to the mercy seat as penitents took the initial step at its conclusion which necessitated the holding of an extended after-service for which many present remained.

Carrying a banner on which was inscribed the name of the plant at which they are employed a good-sized contingent of the R. Thomas & Sons company attended the service in a body. They were given a cordial reception by Evangelist Morris and Pastor A. H. O'Brien.

The invocation and benediction were made by the Rev. Charles Spencer of New Cumberland, W. Va., who before his elevation into the ministry was connected with the Methodist Protestant church of this city.

Announcement was made of the holding in the church tonight of a prayer and singing service in lieu of the regular revival session. The former will begin at 7 and the latter at 8 o'clock.

Two sermons have been announced by Rev. Mr. Morris for Sunday's services when in all probability the revival will conclude. That in the morning will be on the subject, "The Unequal Yoke;" in the evening, his theme will be "A Message From Hell."

Marion Ball sang "That He Might Make Us Whole" during the musical service that precedued the sermon last night.

Chaplin's Wife Denies Rumors of Family Separation

HONOLULU, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Charles Chaplin, the former Lita Grey, today denied the rumors that her trip here presaged a separation from her famous husband.

"We thought the trip here would be beneficial to my mother's health," declared Mrs. Chaplin. "That is the only reason we came to Hawaii."

Mrs. Chaplin expressed her devotion to her husband and said they were happy together.

OHIO MURDERER PLEADS GUILTY

CINCINNATI, Nov. 13.—Edward Lovelace, confessed slayer of Everett Heath, today pleaded guilty of the crime when arraigned before Police Judge Samuel W. Bell.

He was held without bond. County Prosecutor Charles Bell announced that arrangements were being made to take the case before the county grand jury immediately.

The one absent from Geneva was Cuba, which was the first of the five to agree to the American position. The American influence over Cuba is ample explanation of its readiness to accept the American viewpoint. Greece accepted by a note dated April 9; Liberia, May 11; Albania, August 11, and Luxemburg, August 21.

From Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Spain, Japan and the other major league powers there has come nothing but silence to the state department's formal notices of the senate's action. Their only answer has been the action at Geneva.

COL. GARIBALDI UNDER ARREST

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Colonel Riciotti Garibaldi has been formally charged with possession of war arms and explosives and has been taken to the Palais de Justice for a preliminary hearing.

Colonel Garibaldi was detained after charges were made that he was acting as an agent provocateur in France on behalf of Italian fascists and that he had instigated the Cationian attempt at revolt.

The filing of formal charges against Colonel Garibaldi came as a surprise, as it had been understood that no more serious action than deportation would be taken against him.

Another "Clubber" Scare in Toledo; Girl, 20, Attacked

TOLEDO, Nov. 13.—Toledo had another "clubber" scare today, when Clara Lovell, pretty 20-year-old girl, was found unconscious in a yard at 837 Western avenue. A passerby noticed her lying in the yard, and called a physician. The doctor declared she had been attacked and was suffering from an attack of "nerves."

Later the girl recovered consciousness and declared she had been struck by a negro near her home at midnight as she was returning from a visit to the home of a girl friend.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon Funeral Tuesday In Danville, Ill.

DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 13.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon will be buried at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the St. James Methodist church which he joined a year ago, it was announced today.

The church, located half a block from the Cannon residence, was selected because of the possibility of inclement weather. Early plans were to have the funeral at home.

Hall-Mills Love Notes

er in New Brunswick in 1922, was called to the stand.

He testified that when he delivered milk at the Hall home between 4 and 5 a. m. on the morning after the murders, he found a door open at the rear of the Hall home.

"I never had seen this door open before in the time I had delivered milk there," he testified.

Tailor Shop Errand Boy's Story.

William J. Grealis, errand boy for a New Brunswick tailor shop four years ago, was called.

On the Saturday after the murder, he testified, he was sent by Mr. Lyons who owned the tailor shop to the Hall home to deliver some clothes. As he was leaving after having delivered the clothes, Willie Stevens called him and said:

"Come around the back, I have a suit I want you to take to have cleaned and scoured.

"Willie went inside. He reappeared shortly with a suit tied with a rope, told me to take it and have it cleaned and scoured and said he wanted it back next week'

"He was nervous and he made me go out the side way," the youth replied.

At the store, Grealis' brother untied the bundle.

"There were quite a few dark spots on the front of the vest and on the waistline of the trousers," said the witness.

The next time the youth saw the suit, he said, was when he was shown it at police headquarters in New Brunswick. It had not been cleaned.

Simpson asked the witness if the spots on the suit were red.

"No, dark," he replied.

Widow's Friend Testifies.

Miss Agnes Storer, for 10 years organist at the church of St. John the Evangelist at New Brunswick, testified that the night after the double murder, Mrs. Hall called her on the telephone and said the minister "would not be at choir rehearsal tonight. He is out of town."

Less than a year after the crime, Mrs. Hall invited her for a trip to Italy and sent went, the witness testified. She was gone from July 19 to Oct 7, 1923. Mrs. Hall paid her expenses.

"And you never asked Mrs. Hall why she said the night after the murder that he was out of town?" Prosecutor Simpson demanded.

"I did not," the witness replied.

Miss Storer, a refined looking woman, about 45 years old, talked in a low voice. She wore a heavy black fur coat, with a huge brown collar.

Miss Storer testified that she was a friend of both Mr. Hall and Mrs. Hall and that she still remains friendly with the slain rector's widow.

Reporter Is Recalled.

Herbert Mayer, a reporter for the New York Mirror, was recalled as the first witness. Mayer's paper was active in the investigation a few months ago which prompted the governor to appoint Senator Alexander Simpson as special prosecutor to reopen the probe of the mystery.

Counsel for the defense questioned Mayer about the trip that Mayer and Fred Drewen, fingerprint expert of Jersey City, made to see Joseph A. Faurot, the noted Bertillon expert, at Middletown, N. Y. Drewen had with him the calling card found near the bodies of the Rev. Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills and which the state contends bore the fingerprints of Willie Stevens.

Mayer's trip was made for the purpose of getting a possible "story" he testified.

Mrs. Gibson Improving.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 13.—Doctors today reported a slight improvement in the condition of Mrs. Jane Gibson, star witness for the state in the Hall-Mills murder trial.

The blood transfusion which Mrs. Gibson underwent yesterday at the City hospital here, was said to have been successful. Mrs. Gibson rested quietly all night and seemed bright and cheerful today.

BANDIT KILLED IN GUN BATTLE

Policeman and Bystander Wounded in Attempted Hold-up.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A bandit was shot and killed and a policeman and a bystander wounded today, following a revolver battle between police nad bandits in an attempted jewelry store holdup at 38th street and Broadway. The scene of the holdup and shoting was directly opposite the Metropolitan Opera house.

The dead bandit was identified as Benjamin B. Grogan. With two companions he had entered the jewelry store of Jacob Silbergeld.

The jeweler showed fight and one bandit started to shoot.

Patrolman Lariga came running up and opened fire on the bandits. Arthur Beck, a passerby, grappled with one bandit and was wounded. The patrolman also was wounded. The two bandits who accompanied Grogan escaped in an automobile.

Annexation Verdict

valuations of property outside of the city at the present time would be increased if the city limits were extended. He was cross-examined by Attorney Boyd.

N. P. Kerr, president of council, said it was the intention of council to proceed with the extension of the water mains at once if the annexation plans were approved. Similar testimony was offered by Councilmen George Hughes, C. A. Goodballet and O. J. Herrington.

Mayor Benedum said that rates in the wards at the city hospital were $2.50 per day for residents of the city and $3 per day for non-residents. He also testified that a check-up of one petition presented from opponents of annexation showed but 78 of the 196 signers were residents of the territory which the city proposed to annex.

"Every advantage of a municipal character now enjoyed by the people within the city will be extended to residents of the new territory," the mayor declared.

City Engineer Flay Clapsaddle said the proposed new territory included approximately 450 homes.

Deverne Coburn, Maplewood, said he favored annexation, for he wanted city water, fire protection, electric lights and other improvements available for residents of the municipality.

Opposition Witnesses.

Richard E. Baxter, potter, whose property borders along La Belle avenue, which divides the city and township, was the first witness called by the opposition. Baxter said that he did not want to come into the city and "would not call the fire department if my home took fire."

Joseph Blazer, treasurer of the Potters' Savings & Loan company, and whose home is located in what is known as the Maplewood section, said he did not favor annexation for he believed he would not secure any road improvement. Blazer admitted that he had signed a petition for the extension of water mains along St. Clair avenue about a year and a half ago, but said that he was not concerned about city water now. He testified he owned 60 acres of land outside of the proposed new zone.

Charles Mackey said he lived inside the city limits and that he owned two houses, one of which he rents to his son-in-law, but "secures no rent." Mackey said he had received no city improvements.

William Smith, Maplewood, retired hardware dealer, created a sensation when he declared East Liverpool's filtrated water to be "impure." He said that the water taken from the river into which "200,000 people drain their sewers and is not fit to use." Upon cross-examination he admitted that he had sold for home sites his original 25 3-4 acres for many times more than it had cost 25 years ago.

John C. Cain, township trustee expressed the opinion that the township taxes would be decreased if the annexation move were successful and that the trustees would have little money for road improvements.

Trustees Oppose Move.

Joseph Croxall, another member of the township board, said that annexation might be a good proposition a few years hence, but he thought it inadvisable at present. Reduced finances would limit the means of the trustees to take care of roads in the township, Croxall testified.

Frank Azdell, Maplewood dairyman, said he sold 45 gallons of milk daily but that he could see no advantage in annexation. He declared that he kept his property insured against fire and for that reason fire protection meant nothing to him. Azdell had no answer to make when city counsel asked "What if your house should catch afire while you and your family were asleep?"

George Persohn, another township trustee, offered testimony similar to that given by Croxall and Cain, opposing annexation.

Dr. J. P. Ebert, optometrist, living along the Lincoln highway, said he was opposed to extension of the city limits claiming that residents of the city had no police or fire protection. He said the valuation of his property would be decreased if it were taken into the city and that the fire department from the Central station could not reach his home in time to save it, should it catch afire.

At this point the hearing was ended.

Airplane Attack Marks New Outbreak In Marion, Ill.

MARION, Ill., Nov. 13.—Governor Len Small was being urged in telegrams from citizens here today to send national guardsmen into "bloody" Williamson county, following the latest outbreak of gang warfare here.

The feature of the new outbreak was an airplane bombardment of one of the gangster camps. Two men in an airplane flew over the fortified roadhouse of Charles Birger, leader of one of the warring factions.

Three bombs were dropped over the property. One exploded, causing considerable damage but no loss of life. The other two failed to explode.

The scene was reminiscent of the late World war. As soon as the aerial attack began, Birger's men rushed from the house, mounted machine guns on tripods and began firing at the low-flying plane.

The plane flew away, no one seemed to know where.

Alarmed by Kin's Illness, Girl Flings Self Into Ocean

NEW YORK, Nov 13.—An attack of measles suffered by her four-year-old sister so upset Angelina Satienza, a pretty 23-year-old girl of Lawrence, Mass., that she flung herself to death from the stern rail of the Fabre liner Providence in mid-ocean, passengers of the vessel reported upon arrival here today.

The suicide occurred on the early morning of November 7. More than a score of passengers, including the girl's mother, witnessed the tragedy but none of them was near enough to interfere. The ship circled about the scene for more than an hour in vain searching for the girl's body.

Angelina, her mother and four year-old sister, Conchetta, were returning from an extended visit to Italy The older sister feared that the younger girl's illness might cause them all to be held up at Ellis Island and returned to Italy She was on the verge of hysterics at times.

MISS GRIFFITH AT AMERICAN

Corrine is Starred in Film, "Marriage Whirl."

Corinne Griffith's new First National picture, "The Marriage Whirl," which will be the attraction at the Ceramic theatre, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is full of life and jazz.

It moves quickly from a novel masquerade party to a dance of the Sixty Club, showing the acme of New York's night life, and from that to the all-night restaurants of Paris.

That the present generation is under the influence of jazz goes without a doubt. Jazz has become its national anthem. The path that this leads to is full of danger and pitfalls to those who are not aware of them. To call this to the attention of the American public, J. Hartley Manners wrote that successful New York play, "The National Anthem." It was from this play that "The Marriage Whirl" was adapted.

In support of Miss Griffith is an imposing array of names familiar to theatre goers. Harrison Ford and Kenneth Harlan play the leading roles. Nita Naldi lends her personality to the role of a French dancer. Others in the cast include Charles Lane, E. J. Ratcliffe and Edgar Norton.

The picture was directed by Al Santell.

"GIRL FRIEND" HERE TUESDAY

Musical Comedy Has Modern Plot and Good Music.

Lew Fields' New York, Vanderbilt theatre success, "The Girl Friend," which will be the offering at Ceramic theatre, Tuesday evening, Nov. 16, promises to be one of the greatest musical comedy treats of the season. In the first place, it is said to have a plot that is modern and good enough to stand alone in the second place, the music is something to talk about. It is jazzy, but with an undertone of melody and a graceful lilt that commend themselves to those who prefer their syncopation diluted. Thirdly it is presented by a cast specially selected and rehearsed by Mr. Fields to give an effervescent performance in rapid tempo.

The tuneful melodies besides the principal song hits, "The Girl Friend" and "The Blue Room," which are familiar to local music lovers, are "Why Do I?" "The Damsel Who Done All the Dirt," "Town Hall Tonight," "Good Fellow Mine," "He's a Winner," "I'd Like to Take You Home" and "What Is It?"

Big Ten Records Broken As 90,000 Watch State-Michigan

Conference Records Of Two Teams Clean; Noted Stars In Tilt

Michigan, Although Not in Best of Condition Yost Claims, Confident in Strength of Its Super-backfield; Karow and Hess Rank as Aces of Buckeye Eleven.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13.—All Big Ten conference attendance records were slated to go by the boards here this afternoon when 90,000 rabid, wild-eyed football partizans cram their way into Ohio stadium to see the Buckeye eleven clash with "Hurry Up" Yost's Michigan gridders in a decisive conference battle. Neither team has been defeated, and upon the outcome of today's game depends the title hopes of both squads.

The Michigan gridders, although claimed by Yost not to be in the best of condition, were confident that the strength of their super-backfield, headed by Bennie Friedman, Cleveland youth, would offset any superiority in Ohio's line. Marty Karow and Hess, All-American guard, were the aces of the Ohio eleven.

Columbus today was surrendered without reservation to the hosts of enthusiasts who poured in from every quarter of the compass by auto, train and afoot. The town was literally football crazy, and no other topic was discussed, as thousands milled about seeking tickets which have not been available for two weeks:

The probable lineup:

| OHIO | | MICHIGAN |
|---|---|---|
| Bell | L. E. | Oosterbaan |
| Raskowski | L. T. | Baer |
| Meyer | L. G. | Dewey |

Field Goal May Win Grid Tilt Between Penn and Columbia

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—Although Penn's attack has failed to score a touchdown in the last two games, while Columbia showed a real winning punch against Cornell, the Quakers nevertheless, are favored to defeat the Lions at Franklin Field this afternoon. While the Red and Blue failed to produce scoring power against Illinois and Penn State, it presented a defense ranking with the best, yielding only one field goal.

The defenses of both Columbia and Penn have shown up so well so far that in the opinion of many, a field goal may settle the issue. In Paul Scull, a sophomore, the Red and Blue has one of the finest drop kickers seen here in years. For Columbia, Captain Bill Madden will do the field goal booting, inasmuch as he is an unusually dependable placement kicker.

Penn is regarded as slightly superior to Columbia on the line to the extent that the Red and Blue has shown a better offensive charge. In weight the two forward walls are evenly matched, both teams tipping the beam at 184 pounds.

Sets New Record In Balkline Play

THINK CORNELL IS 'DUE' TODAY

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Although Dartmouth was favored to defeat Cornell in their annual gridiron classic here today, the big red eleven took the field today condifent of victory. Cornell rooters believed the team was due to "find itself."

Coach Dobie, usually pessimistic, declared that the Ithacans would put up a hard fight. He conceded the superior strength of Dartmouth in backfield play and forward passing, however.

TIGER IN LAST 'BIG 3' SCRAP

Carries 7 to 5 Odds in Contest With Yale.

By Frank F. O'Neill.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 13.—Yale's sturdy Bulldog invades Palmer stadium today to tackle the rampant Tiger in his jungle stronghold. Ears half gone and tail chewed, its heaving sides dripping blood from many wounds, the Bulldog yields yardage to no Tiger.

What if the betting odds were 7 to 5 on Princeton this morning? What if critics predict another beating for the Blue? Yale has been on the short end of betting odds in other years, but Yale came through.

Added zest has been given to this game by the break in relations between Harvard and Princeton. It is Princeton's last "Big Three" contest. A crowd of 55,000 enthusiasts was expected.

Yale's weakened backfield may be stiffened by the return of Bill Kline. Reports from Ridgeway, Pa., have it that Kline will play. Only yesterday Kline stood at the side of his mother's grave, his heart torn by the greatest grief a human being may know. Football seemed beyond him then as he witnessed the last sad rites of a burial service. But there is the story told in subdued whispers that Bill's mother wished him to carry on for Yale in its need, and 'tis said that Bill will give all he has in his greatest game of the Blue season.

There is no known method of computing football power by which more than a fighting chance of victory can be given to Yale in this strife. Yale has not scored a point in three games. Brown, Army and Maryland defeated Yale in succession.

This is the final game of the Princeton schedule. The team that defeated Harvard is intact and ready to go.

The probable lineup:

| Princeton. | | Yale. |
|---|---|---|
| Lawler | L.E. | Scott |
| Darby | L.T. | Richards |
| Davis | L.G. | Sturhahn |
| Bartell | C. | Harvey |
| Baldwin | R.G. | Webster |
| Rosengarten | R.T. | Benton |
| Moeser | R.E. | Fishwick |
| Caulkins | Q.B. | Bunnell |
| Bridges | L.H. | Holabird |
| Slagle | R.H. | Failing |
| Miles | F.B. | Kline or Cox |

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 81 Golf Champions.
"Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

From the top of the back swing and just as you start to swing the club forward, it is always a good idea to have in mind that from where you are — at the top — you are going to hit diagonally across the ball from left to right, or from the inside out. There is a considerable difference between contemplating the hitting swing this way as against thinking of hitting into the ball and actually straight through it. If you do the latter, you will almost certainly hit around to the left as you go through the ball. If you try to hit diagonally across the ball you will actually hit straight through it. If you cut divots across the ine on your iron shots you should try hitting diagonally across, as here described. You will then see the straight divot mark. This will change timing just slightly, but you will very easily feel your way into the right timing. The hit will feel much more solid, too, and the ball will fly straight.

MICHIGAN BANS GRID PARTIES

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 13.—Inability to cope with the problem raised by attendance of alumni and guests today caused the senate committee on student affairs to ban fraternity and sorority dances on Saturdays of home football games at the University of Michigan.

The new measure will seek to eliminate the alleged "drinking bouts" at fraternity houses in after-game celebrations.

Charges that the alumni and guests of fraternities were usually to blame for "wet" parties were made last year when President Clarence Cook Little first took the reins in his own hands.

Unbeaten Teams Will Be Fewer This Afternoon

Crucial Games Billed in Practically all Sections.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The list of undefeated gridiron elevens is likely to be depleted by sundown today. The Army-Notre Dame clash here marks the meeting of two undefeated teams. The Navy-Georgetown engagement at Annapolis brings together Bill Ingram's undefeated middies and Lou Little's scrappy Georgetown pupils. Brown, yet to be defeated, clashes with Harvard at Cambridge. Ohio State and Michigan meet in the middle-west.

Besides these contests the eastern football card calls for the Yale-Princeton classic at Princeton, the Pittsburgh-Washington and Jefferson game at Pittsburgh, the Syracuse-Colgate conflict at Syracuse, the Pennsylvania-Columbia engagement at Philadelphia, and the Cornell-Dartmouth tussle at Ithica, all of which give promise of bringing some real first class football to the east.

The Tigers, because of their victory over Harvard, are a slight favorite over the Bulldogs. Bill Roper is the sort of coach who banks his entire season on his final games, and the Tigers will have no excuse to offer should they lose. Dotl's punting, Hewitt's line plunging, Murrell's all-around playing and Harding's fine generalship should steer the Army gridiron tank to victory over Notre Dame.

The Navy is going to find its task of keeping its slate clean a most difficult one. Lou Little has developed a real he-man's team at Georgetown.

Brown is going to find Harvard in a fighting mood up at Cambridge, but should win.

In all Poland there are only 2,300 taxis, but this is 700 more than were there a year ago.

Fight Results

AT TOLEDO, O.—Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, won decision over Jack Duffy of Toledo, twelve rounds. Don Boyer, Toledo, knocked out Patsy Kline, of New York, in the second round.

AT TAMPA, FLA. — Bermondey Billy Wells, of England, won decision over Julian Moran, of Havana, Cuba, ten rounds. Willie Herman, of New York, won decision over Arramis Delpino, of Havana, ten rounds.

AT MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Jimmy Delaney, of St. Paul, won decision over Johnny Risko, of Cleveland, ten rounds.

AT MIAMI, FLA.—Armando Shekels, of Belgium, won decision over Kewpie Trimble, of Chicago, ten rounds.

AT CLEVELAND, O.—Johnny Farr, of Cleveland, won decision over Johnny Datto, of the Philippine Islands, twelve rounds. Jimmy Mendo, of Cleveland, won decision over Billy Herrold, of California, six rounds.

AT SAN FRANCISCO.—Young Jack Thompson, of San Diego, and Ted Makagon, of San Francisco, drew, ten rounds.

AT DETROIT — Clarence Rosen knocked out Pete Firpo in sixth round. Andy Chaney, Baltimore, lost on a foul to Lee Hardy, Detroit. Jakie Dombrowski, Detroit, got decision over Al Marchant, England.

Navy-Georgetown Clash Today After Seven-year Lapse

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 13. — The Navy and Georgetown resumed football relations today after a lapse of seven years.

Twenty thousand spectators will sit in at Farragut field this afternoon when Lou Little leads his Hilltoppers against the undefeated Middie aggregation, and twice that number would be there if there were accomodations.

Georgetown has a powerful team to throw against the unbeaten Navy team, which is considered the strongest in years. A close one is anticipated, with the Navy being given the edge by most experts. The betting, however, is at even money.

Veteran Army Outfit Called Perfect Team

Truth of Claim Will be Determined Today When Cadets Meet Notre Dame; Battle Between Rivals is Likened to Clash of Rapier and Blunderbuss; 70,000 See Scrap.

Bq David J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Notre Dame and the Army, rapier and night-stick of collegiate football, will oblige this afternoon with the thrust, the parry, the hammer and tongs, peculiarly typical of the weapons in question while an oversize crowd of 70,000 goes off its community nut over the pulsating details. Annual rivals, annual friends, both teams have come up to this, the greatest intersectional meeting of the year, undefeated and the outfit that survivies the issue will find few to say it nay.

The Army, veteran to its heels except where better men have come in from the outside to chase the old timers hence, has been hailed as the perfect team by the inspired prophets and maybe it is. The matter either will be proved or thoroughly disproved this afternoon, for Notre Dame has been occupied with a bit of deep thinking over that 27 to 0 disaster of last year and the fact that it seems to be a typical Rockne eleven will do it practically no harm, either.

Betting at Even Money.

This, in fact, will be a football game from the moment they turn them loose until that last, despairing whistle sends them back. The betting is at even money and couldn't be anything else.

The Army has an all-American line, featuring Born, an end, Daly at center, all-American candidates both. In the backfield, Harding, quarterback, and Wilson, halfback, are hangovers of other years while Murrell, from Minnesota, and Cagle, from Louisiana Poly, have been good enough to send Tiny Hewitt, team captain and a star at old Pitt, to the sidelines and keep him there. The more or less incapacitated Trapnell may be available for any and all emergencies.

Army Record Impressive.

It is an immpressive array, in truth, and its records of victories over Syracuse and Yale, the latter by 33 to 0, is hardly less so.

Incidentally, the teams are almost identically those that participated in the 1925 rout of the Irish, yet physchologically they are different. The Army was a fine defensive team then and smother Notre Dame's passing game in its infancy. But today, the suspicion existed that the Army was not altogether fool proof in its open field tackling nor its defense against the pass, if that be true, a fine time will be had by all.

Have New "Horseman."

For this Notre Dame team came back and lived down its disaster before the end of the 1925 season and today it is said to be as good as the 1924 outfit, featuring the famous four horsemen. They even go so far as to say that the present backfield of Edwards, Flangan, Hearden and Roach rivals the Stuhldreher-Miller-Crowley-Layden combination in speed and general effectiveness and certainly Notre Dame's record of victories over Minnesota, Penn State, Northwestern, Georgie Tech and Indiana hardly gives the lie direct to this impression.

The line, too, is believed to be sound defensively and a terror on attack, with Boeringer being so adept at center that they had to make an end of Maxwell, the veteran.

Quite so: these are great teams and the best part about them is that they have won all of their games without uncovering the strategic hand. The Army didn't throw a pass in scoring 33 points on Yale; the Irish have had second and third stringers operating the greater part of their games.

Irish Smarter.

Therefore, neither knows what to expect. Still, it is believed that Notre Dame is the smarter outfit and will be equipped with greater finesse and deception.

It will be the old story of the rapier versus the blunderbuss. I prefer the rapier provided it gets to the point of attack with all due haste. If it doesn't—good night, beloved.

The probable lineup follows:

| Army. | | Notre Dame. |
|---|---|---|
| Born | L.E. | Voedisch |
| Sprague | L.T. | McManmon |
| Schmidt | L.G. | Smith |
| Daly | Center | Boeringer |
| Hammack | R.G. | Leppig |
| Saunders | R.T. | Miller |
| Harbold | R.E. | Maxwell or Wallace |
| Harding | Q.B | Edwards |
| Cagle | L.H | Flanagan |
| Wilson | R.H. | Hearnden |
| Murrell | F.B. | Roach |

SEEKS CHANGE IN BANKING LAWS

H. A. Abbott, state commissioner of banking, is understood to favor the enactment of a law which would authorize his department to act as receiver for defunct state banks instead of having a receiver appointed. He probably will press the matter upon the next legislature.

It is argued that by making the state commission the receiver, much money would be saved to the bank and it would also speed up the adjustment of the bank's affairs.

Mr. Abbott's plan, it is said, would include the services of an attorney regularly employed by the department, whose duty would be to take care of all legal matters connected with bank receiverships. In this way a still greater savings to the bank would be affected.

Hunting Licenses Increase.

Large increase has been reported in the number of hunting licenses issued this fall throughout the state by the clerks of the various county courts. Deputy state game wardens have been assigned to duty in counties where the majority of hunters are wont to travel.

Jury Trials Monday.

Jury trials will begin Monday in circuit court at New Cumberland. Majority of cases listed deal with alleged violation of the prohibition laws, Judge J. Harold Brennan will preside.
